BARTHOLOMEW PORTER CASE REACHES END

Long Litigation Is Concluded When Remaining Indictment Is Nollied.

The celebrated Bartholomew Porter case, which has provided litigation in the Pickaway-county civil and criminal courts for the past three years, has been ended.

Its finish was marked this week with the cancelling of the second of two original indictments against M. S. Bartholomew, of New Holland, by Prosecutor Emmett L. Crist. The nollied indictment charged Mr. Bartholomew with the forgery of a note and Prosecutor Crist asked its cancellation because of the lack of evidence.

Previously Mr. Bartholomew had been acquitted in common pleas court on the directed instructions of Judge Price of New Lexington, who held that the first indictment, charging the defendant with altering a note, was not supported by the evidence.

According to the evidence in the various hearings of the litigation, Mr. Bartholomew in 1911 loaned W. C. Porter and his father, David R. Porter, the sum of $3,000. In later years, it was brought out, W. C. Porter assumed the total obligation, giving Mr. Bartholomew notes for the amount with his father signing as security.

In the meantime, D. R. Porter divided his farm lands among his three daughters, Emma and Artie Porter and Laura Kelley. A note for $3,638.40 was accepted by Mr. Bartholomew in July, 1920, according to the evidence. This note was signed, it was brought out, by W. C. Porter, D. R. Porter and Emma and Artie Porter, and was subsequently claimed to be a forgery.

W. C. Porter died in April, 1921, and it was testified, he and his father had been defendants in a number of suits with other parties and as a result the son transferred to his sisters, Emma and Artie, who assumed his obligations, all of his property, including a residence in Worthington, a garage in Columbus, and lands in Florida and Georgia.

INTEREST REFUSED

In July, 1921, Mr. Bartholomew took a new note from D. R. Porter and Emma and Artie Porter. The note was for $3,500, the difference from $3,638.40 and interest being paid in cash. Interest on this note was paid him for three years and in 1925 the sisters refused to pay the interest, announcing their intention of investigating the note drawn up in 1920. Their father, co-signer with them on that note and on the note of 1921, had died in the meantime.

Mr. Bartholomew sued and obtained judgment in 1926 on the $3,500 note. The Porter sisters brought suit to enjoin the collection of the judgment, claiming the original note was a forgery. They also claimed that on the $3,500 note the interest rate had been raised from 6 to 7 percent.

Under the instructions of Judge Clarence Curtin, a jury in September, 1927, returned a verdict in favor of the Porter sisters. The court of appeals reversed the verdict, declaring it was not a case for a jury, that the instructions of the judge were erroneous and that the verdict was manifestly against the weight of the evidence. It was remanded to the lower court and this summer Judge J. W. Adkins heard the case, recently deciding in favor of Mr. Bartholomew.

TWO INDICTMENTS

After the hearing before Judge Curtin, the Porter sisters preferred charges against Mr. Bartholomew, with the result that he was indicted in 1928 on allegations of altering a note and of forgery. The former charge was dismissed when Judge Price of New Lexington, presiding at the trial, instructed the jury to return a verdict of acquittal, because the evidence was insufficient. This week the forgery indictment was nollied by Judge Adkins at the request of Prosecutor Emmett Crist who held that the civil case had established the absence of forgery.

FRENCH ACES SAFE, REPORT

Seekers After Distance Flying Record Landed in Manchuria, Word Says.

PARIS, Oct. 5.—(INS).—Captain Dieudonne Costes and Maurice Bellonte, famous French airmen given up for lost in a sensational attempt to shatter all non-stop distance flight records, landed at Kowchin, a tiny village near Tsitsihar, Manchuria, a dispatch from Harbin revealed today.

If the dispatch is true and the fliers safe, it means that they have broken the existing distance record by more than 400 miles.

In addition to the dispatch from Tsitsihar, the French air ministry has received an unofficial communication in which the fliers were quoted as saying they landed at 3 p. m. yesterday.

There obviously is some miscalculation in time, or else the landing in Manchuria was not made after a direct non-stop flight from Paris. The airmen took off from Le Bourget air field a week ago yesterday, and on the following Sunday were reported sighted some distance from Irkutsk, Siberia.

There is a possibility the message was sent by the fliers some days ago and was badly delayed in transmission. Their plane, the "Question Mark" was not equipped from the point of view of fuel supply to remain in the air for a week at a stretch.

LONDON, Oct. 5.—(INS).—Dispatches from Osaka, Japan, to the evening newspapers here today state that the French fliers Costes and Bellonte have landed at the village of Kowchin, near Tsitsihar. There are no details.

RACE HORSES IN COLLISION

Truck Carrying Speed Animals From Lexington Overturned Near Williamsport

A load of horses coming from the races at Lexington, Kentucky, were somewhat frightened and shaken up late Friday evening when the truck in which they were being transported to Pennsylvania turned over on the Williamsport pike.

Two men were in the truck and in order to avoid hitting Ohio Weaver, who was coming out of an intersecting road on the highway, they swerved the truck and it turned over. The accident happened near the Samuel Lutz farm and the name of the driver and his partner was not disclosed for the reason that they did not want publicity. The top of the truck was completely demolished while the horses suffered only minor injuries.

MOUNTAINS OF VIRGINIA WILL GUARD PARLEY

President Hoover and Premier MacDonald To Confer In Wilderness Setting.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 5.—(INS).—The silent peaks of the Blue Ridge mountains will close in today upon the peace conference between President Hoover and Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald of Great Britain.

The British premier will accompany his presidential host this afternoon into the fastnesses of the Virginia mountains. At the Hoover camping retreat in the Virginia wilderness the American president and the prime minister will talk man-to-man concerning mutual understanding between the two great English-speaking nations.

The presidential lodge is 100 miles from the capitol and may be reached only by traversing 12 miles of tortuous roadbed. The Alpine-like region, with its rough and tangled verdure, may well remind the "fighting pacifist" of his homeland on the rugged shores of the Moray Firth in Scotland overlooked by the dark forests on the slanting Grampian mountains.

TO SOLVE PROBLEMS

It is in such surroundings that men get to know each other and in the silence of the Blue Ridge forests will be threshed out those international problems which may lead a mechanical age to golden peace.

Mrs. Hoover and the premier's daughter Isabel MacDonald, whose cheeks are tinted like the red of autumn leaves, will accompany the party. "What these two princesses of leading statesmen will talk about may never be known but it is hardly audacious to predict that it will not be entirely international relations.

Before the prime minister leaves for a week-end isolation in the wilderness he will complete his formal social duties in the capital.

In the morning, MacDonald will call upon the vice-president, the chief justice and the speaker of the house. He will be accompanied by Sir Esme Howard, ambassador of Great Britain.

The prime minister will also make a courtesy call on Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson at the department of state. Following a lunch at the British embassy, he will go to the White House as a guest for the remainder of his stay in Washington.

THRILLS PROVIDED

In addition to the colorful pomp and ceremony attached to the formalities, Washington contributed a new sensation to the prime minister in the activities of the newspaper cameramen.

When the premier left the White House after calling on President Hoover, farelights made a miniature Coney Island of the lawn and Speed-flash powder detonated like the 19-gun salute he received when coming up New York harbor.

As a particularly large charge exploded, the lens of one camera popped off and was hurled at the feet of the prime minister. Several secret service men jumped instinctively.

Isabel also has had her first thrill. Her automobile became separated from the procession between the White House and the British embassy and swerved in and out of traffic in an effort to catch up. Several times collisions with other machines were narrowly averted.

SOVIET AIRPLANE IS FORCED DOWN

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—(INS).—The Russian Plane, Land of the Soviets, was forced down at Waterfall, Alaska, and its pilots are safe at Craig, Alaska, according to word received at the air department today from Craig.

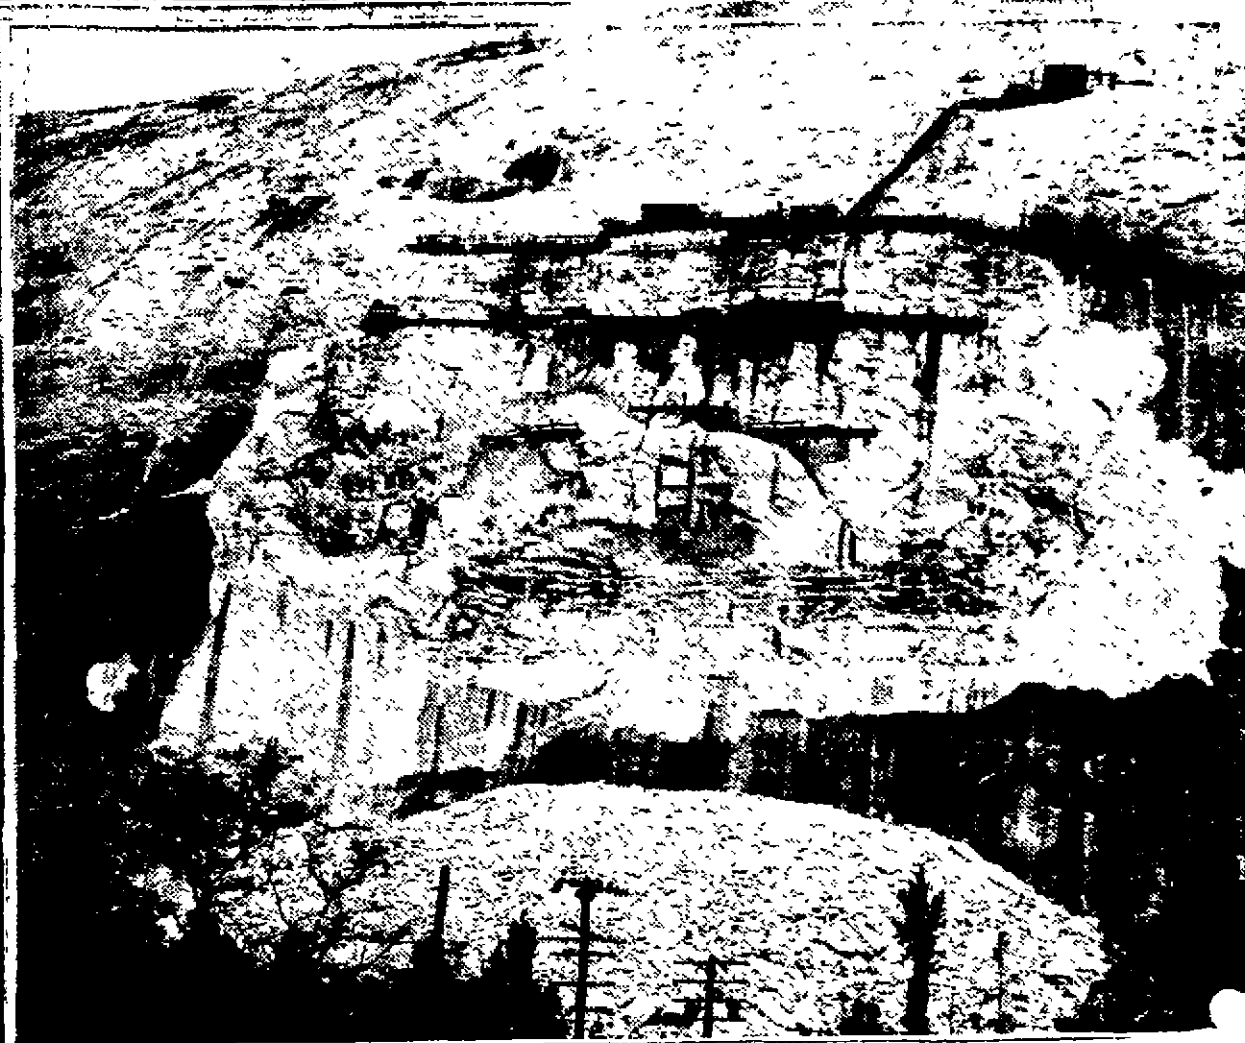

Major General George S. Gibbs, head of the Washington-Alaska military cable and telegraph system, at Seattle, wired "Message at 2:40 P. M. Pacific Standard Time, Oct. 4 from our operator at Craig, Alaska, states that two of the Soviet airplane fliers just came into his office in Craig, stating their plane was forced down at Waterfall, Alaska, 20 odd miles from Craig, further details later."

Prosecuting Attorney Emmett Crist was a business visitor in Fairbanks Thursday.

Berglum is charged with malicious mischief and larceny.

MANY PLANES IN AIR TOUR

Forty-five Sky Craft Off In Aerial Fleet Taking Off From Airport at Dearborn.

DETROIT, Oct. 5.—(INS).—Approximately 45 airplanes—comprising one of the largest aerial fleets ever assembled—were scheduled to take off from the Ford airport at Dearborn early today on the first leg of the Fifth Annual National Air Reliability tour.

Sixteen days from now the sky fleet will return to the Ford airport after having visited no less than 35 cities in 20 states and having covered a distance estimated at 5,000 miles.

This year's tour, it was announced by officials last night, is certain to break many records, both in regard to the type of ships entered and the personnel of the pilots.

A few of the outstanding flyers who have entered planes are George Haldeman, pilot for Ruth Elder on her trans-Atlantic flight; Dale "Red" Jackson, who with Forest O'Brien established a new world's refueling endurance record in the St. Louis Robin; J. C. Kelley, noted transcontinental flyer and Amelia Earhart, the first woman to fly across the Atlantic ocean.

From Dearborn, the touring planes will fly to Windsor, Canada, where the first stop, one of two hours, will be made. After this, the planes will visit in the following order: Toronto, Ottawa, Montreal, Portland, Springfield, New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Richmond, Winston-Salem, N. C., Greenville, S. C., Augusta, Ga., Jacksonville, Fla., Macon, Atlanta, Murfreesboro, Tenn., Cincinnati, Louisville, St. Louis, Springfield, Ill., Wichita, Kan., St. Joseph, Mo., Des Moines, Cedar Rapids, St. Paul, Wausau, Milwaukee, Mohne, Chicago, Kalamazoo and return to Dearborn.

Two petitions for divorce have been filed in the Pickaway-county probate court. One has been filed by Rosa Barnes against Clarence Barnes, local machinist. The defendant and plaintiff were married Sept. 22, 1914, and one minor child was born of the marriage. Mary Albertine, age 12 years, who at the present time is blind. The plaintiff charges habitual drunkenness and extreme cruelty. Albertine and Simkins represent the plaintiff and I. F. Sander is the attorney for the defendant.

LOCAL RED MEN TO ATTEND INITIATION

A delegation from the local lodge of Red Men will go to Adelphi on Saturday night, Oct. 19, to attend the district school at the lodge of the Corn Planter tribe and to participate in the initiation.

The lodge here is conducting a membership drive which will be concluded with a dinner on Dec. 19 and the initiation of a Christmas class. Committees to arrange for the formal opening and dedication of the new lodge rooms in the city hall will be appointed at the next meeting on Oct. 19.

TO GIVE ADDRESS

L. E. Miller, Circleville service director and past great sachem of the Improved Order of Red Men of Ohio will go to Summit Station, O. Saturday night to speak at the homecoming and initiation of the Deerlock tribe.

Wife of Former Heavyweight Champ Undergoes Second Operation Today

Heiress Bride of Tunney Has Appendix Removed By Berlin Specialist.

BERLIN, Oct. 5.—(INS).—Mrs. Jesse J. (Gene) Tunney, wife of the former heavyweight champion of the world, underwent an operation for appendicitis here today. The operation was entirely successful.

The operation was performed at the clinic of Professor A. W. Meyer, the famous German surgeon who saved Mrs. Tunney's life when she was close to death from an abdominal abscess on Brioni island in the Adriatic this spring.

Mrs. Tunney, the former Polly Lauder, Greenwich, Conn., heiress, was taken to the clinic by her husband yesterday. There was no emergency but an operation was deemed advisable.

UNAWARE OF OPERATION

Tunney left his wife at the clinic last night and returned to his apartments in the Hotel Esplanade. He was still at the hotel when reached by International News Service on the telephone at 9 o'clock this morning, and was unaware that Dr. Meyer had already begun the operation.

"You certainly caught me this time," the elusive ex-champion said. "I was just going to call the clinic to find out about it."

Tunney at first refused to confirm or deny that the operation had been decided upon, but finally added:

"You may consider this my confirmation."

The Tunneys arrived here early this week from France, and immediately called to see Dr. Meyer. The visit gave rise to erroneous reports that Tunney himself had to undergo an operation. But this was ridiculed both by the surgeon and the fighter himself.

GIVES OUT DETAILS

Through his secretary, Tunney later gave to International News Service details of the operation.

"The operation lasted half an hour and was a full success," the ex-fighter said. "Mrs. Tunney's appendix was removed because of its condition due to the abscess."

"The operation proceeded normally, and there were no complications whatever. Things turned out exactly as Professor Meyer predicted when he operated on Mrs. Tunney at Brioni."

"My absence during the operation was more or less according to plan, Dr. Meyer wishing to spare me too much excitement. Mrs. Tunney behaved most bravely, I am told."

YORK'S CRITIC GIVEN MEDAL

Flatron Commander, Who Doubtful Hero's Story, Gains Decoration.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—(INS).—As a direct result of the flare up over the congressional medal awarded Sergt. Alvin C. York, Tennessee mountaineer, credited with killing 15 Germans and capturing 132 at Chatel Chehery, France, Oct. 8, 1918, Sergt. Bernard Early, Co. G, 328th Inf., of Connecticut, York's platoon commander, probably will receive the distinguished cross today.

Sergt. Early it was who started the furore against York's claim for which the Tennesseean was given the highest award this government has to bestow for exceptional valor. The decoration Early is expected to get, is the next coveted by soldiers.

The army's decoration board held a special session and is understood to have recommended that Secretary Good grant the award at today's re-enactment of the battle which made York famous. A letter in the files of the war department dated back in 1920, was dug out and it was used as the basis for the decoration board's action on the suggestion of Maj. Gen. Wells, deputy chief of staff.

The letter called attention at that time to a belief held by many officers and men of the brigade to which the 328th Inf. was attached, that Early as the noncommissioned officer who gave the original order to advance with 17 men against the German stronghold held by 200 Germans, should have been given the D. S. C.

Val Valentine, of Stoutsville, is the second farmer in Fairfield Co., not in the state, to produce three ton litters in one year.

Mr. Valentine sold the hogs as soon as they were of good market weight. The first litter sold was a litter of eleven that weighed 2230 lb. at 165 days of age, and the second litter of nine pigs weighed 2050 lb. at 170 days of age, and the third litter of ten weighed 2080 lb. at 160 days of age. This is considerably less than the 150 days allowed. The 30 pigs were all fed together in a self feeder that Mr. Valentine made himself. They were fed corn and a mixture of tankage and oil meal in the feeder, with a small amount of slop made from middlings.

Mr. Valentine has raised five ton litters in the last four years which is the record for Fairfield Co.

During the last four years Mr. Valentine has tried force feeding, and also tried cruet feeding, and finishing them out on new corn. He stated yesterday that he is going to use that method entirely from now on.

VISITOR RENEWS SOCIAL BATTLE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—The place of Mrs. "Dolly" Gann, sister of Vice President Charles Gann, in the social sun of the capital again loomed across the horizon today.

Isabel MacDonald, daughter of the visiting British prime minister and his official hostess when he is in London, resusitated the question by announcing that she would make three social calls before leaving for President Hoover's Washington camp.

FIRE FIGHTERS DO FAST WORK

Firemen On E. Franklin-St. Extinguish Blaze—Adjoining Houses Saved.

The local fire department made its first call in a month's time Friday when it was called to the residence of Carl Miller on E. Franklin-st. to extinguish a burning out-building in the rear of his property.

This shed was located between the residence of Miller owned by W. L. Henn and Daniel Bowman. The fire fighters made fast accomplishments with their skilled work. When they arrived things looked dangerous as the fire was spreading to the west side of the Bowman residence and was licking around the Miller home.

The first move of the firemen was to make things safe for the two residences to which the fire was headed. A steady flow of water played on the shed and also upon the two adjoining buildings until the final spark was killed.

It was definitely established today that Daniels caused 11 of the 12 deaths. Three guards were killed in the early rioting and Daniels mercilessly slew four other guards, shooting them down in cold blood within the prison walls. He then sent a "mercy" shot to Jimmy Pardue, co-conspirator, who had been injured; shot down three of his other followers, and then committed suicide to end the bloody siege in the "tomb of living men."

The property damage from fire, machine gun and rifle bullets and dynamite was fixed at $500,000. The chapel, mess hall, library and two cell houses were practically destroyed, and a third cell house—No. 3, the house of character—will have to be rebuilt.

One prisoner, unidentified, is said to have become a raving maniac. Nine hundred prisoners are temporarily housed in tents in the prison yard. Four separate investigations into the outbreak and rioting which resulted in such great bloodshed got under way today. The federal government, Governor Adams, Warden F. E. Crawford, and a coroner's jury will probe the rioting and massacre, and try to learn how the rioters used by Daniels and Pardue in starting the riot were smuggled into the prison.

ONE CONVICT KILLS ELEVEN DURING FIGHT

Damage In Colorado Penitentiary Revolt Is Placed at $500,000.

CANON CITY, Colo., Oct. 5.—(INS).—A pall of sadness and even traces of terror still hung over this city today with the passing excitement and horror over the brutal slaying of guards and convicts during an orgy of bloodshed unprecedented in the history of western penal institutions.

The death toll of the bloody state penitentiary riot stood at 12—seven guards and five convicts; a score were suffering from wounds and injuries sustained during the 17 hour riot precipitated by Danny Daniels, arch-slayer, in his desperate attempt to escape, along with four other convict companions.

It was definitely established today that Daniels caused 11 of the 12 deaths. Three guards were killed in the early rioting and Daniels mercilessly slew four other guards, shooting them down in cold blood within the prison walls. He then sent a "mercy" shot to Jimmy Pardue, co-conspirator, who had been injured; shot down three of his other followers, and then committed suicide to end the bloody siege in the "tomb of living men."

Authorities declared today that Daniels and his murderous crew were supplied with only four antiquated weapons—until they secured rifles of guards whom they overpowered, and then killed.

DENIES ARSENAL RAID

Warden Crawford denied that the prisoners made a successful raid upon the prison arsenal immediately following the bedlam that broke loose when Guard Erwin was shot down at the end of the noon meal Thursday.

Governor Adams, after an inspection of the prison, was amazed at the enormous damage. He pledged himself to see that the institution's buildings were restored, and commanded Warden Crawford for his attitude in refusing to comply with the ultimatum of Daniels and his riot crew who demanded a "free getaway, or we will kill every guard in here."

Governor Adams complimented the warden, the militia and other officers, who expended some 7,000 machine gun and rifle shots during the 17 hours siege, for the "fine way in which the situation was handled."

POULTRY EXHIBIT TO FEATURE SHOW

The poultry raisers of Pickaway-county will be pleased to learn that a special poultry disease and parasite control exhibit is under preparation for the Pumpkin Show.

The exhibit which is provided through cooperation of the State Department of Agriculture and the Farm Bureau will be housed in the Farm Bureau tent on E. Main-st. This exhibit depicts the live habits of the tape and round worms, two of the worst internal parasites of the fowl. The common symptoms of roup, chicken pox and tuberculosis will be shown in this exhibit.

An authority on these subjects, will be assigned to accompany the exhibit and discuss poultry disease problems with all who are interested.

SOVIET AIRPLANE IS FORCED DOWN

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—The Russian Plane, Land of the Soviets, was forced down at Waterfall, Alaska, and its pilots are safe at Craig, Alaska, according to word received at the ar department today from Craig.

Major General George S. Gibbs, head of the Washington-Alaska military cable and telegraph system, at Seattle, wired:

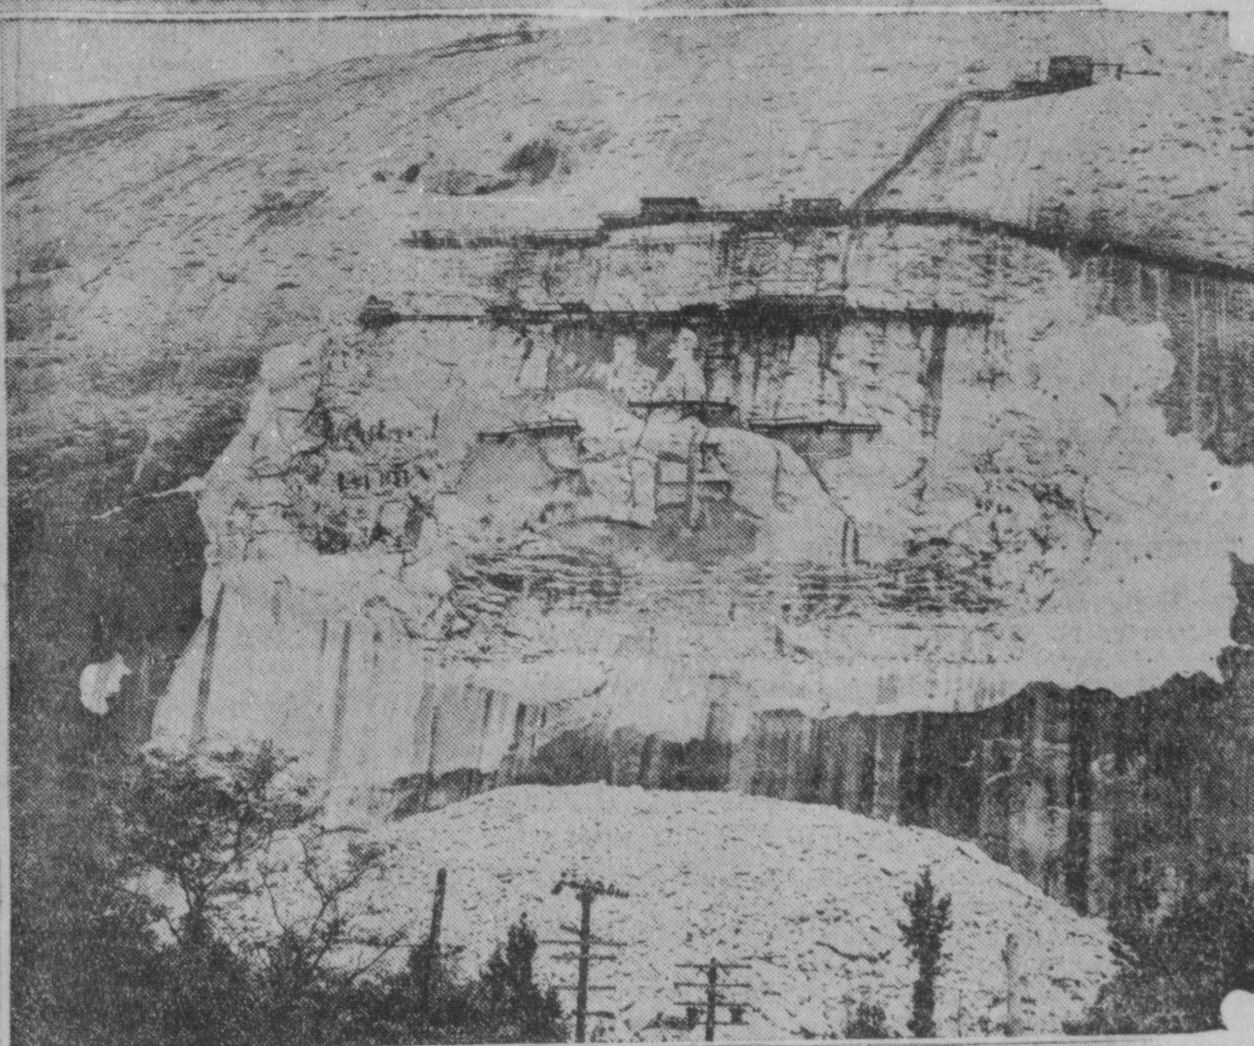

"Message at 2:00 P. M. Pacific Standard Time, Oct. 4, from our operator at Craig, Alaska, states that two of the Soviet airplane fliers just came into his office in Craig, stating their plane was forced down at Waterfall, Alaska, 20 odd miles from Craig, further details later."

Prosecuting Attorney Emmett Crist was a business visitor in Chulitche Thursday.

SCULPTOR HAS MOUNTAIN OF TROUBLE IN GEORGIA

Gutzen Berglum, dismissed sculptor for the Stone Mountain Confederate Memorial, who has been indicted in Georgia.

The incompleting Stone Mountain Memorial near Atlanta, Ga., work on which was started in 1925 by Berglum. Following his dismissal the sculptor, according to the indictments returned by a De Kalb County grand jury, destroyed the models for the great memorial. Berglum is charged with malicious mischief and larceny.

MANY PLANES IN AIR TOUR

Forty-five Sky Craft In Aerial Fleet Taking Off From Airport at Dearborn.

DETROIT, Oct. 5.—(INS)—Approximately 45 airplanes—comprising one of the largest aerial fleets ever assembled—were scheduled to take off from the Ford airport at Dearborn early today on the first leg of the Fifth Annual National Air Reliability tour.

Sixteen days from now the sky fleet will return to the Ford airport after having visited no less than 35 cities in 20 states and having covered a distance estimated at 5,000 miles.

This year's tour, it was announced by officials last night, is certain to break many records, both in regard to the type of ships entered and the personnel of the pilots.

A few of the outstanding flyers who have entered planes are George Haldeman, pilot for Ruth Elder on her trans-Atlantic flight; Dale "Red" Jackson, who with Forest O'Brien established a new record in the St. Louis Robin; J. C. Kelley, noted transcontinental flyer and Amelia Earhart, the first woman to fly across the Atlantic ocean.

From Dearborn, the touring planes will fly to Windsor, Canada, where the first stop, one of two hours, will be made. After this, the planes will visit in the following order: Toronto, Ottawa, Montreal, Portland, Springfield, New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Richmond, Winston-Salem, N. C., Greenville, S. C., Augusta, Ga., Jacksonville, Fla., Macon, Atlanta, Murfreesboro, Tenn., Cincinnati, Louisville, St. Louis, Springfield, Ill., Wichita, Kan., St. Joseph, Mo., Des Moines, Cedar Rapids, St. Paul, Wausau, Milwaukee, Moline, Chicago, Kalamazoo and return to Dearborn.

LOCAL RED MEN TO ATTEND INITIATION

A delegation from the local lodge of Red Men will go to Adelphi on Saturday night, Oct. 19, to attend the district school at the lodge of the Corn Planter tribe and to participate in the initiation. The lodge here is conducting a membership drive which will be concluded with a dinner on Dec. 19 and the initiation of a Christmas class. Committees to arrange for the formal opening and dedication of the new lodge rooms in the city hall will be appointed at the next meeting on Oct. 10.

TO GIVE ADDRESS

L. E. Miller, Circleville service director, and past great sachem of the Improved Order of Red Men of Ohio, will go to Summit Station, O., Saturday night to speak at the homecoming and initiation of the Deerlick tribe.

Wife of Former Heavyweight Champ Undergoes Second Operation Today

Heiress Bride of Tunney Has Appendix Removed By Berlin Specialist.

BERLIN, Oct. 5.—(INS)—Mrs. James J. (Gene) Tunney, wife of the former heavyweight champion of the world, underwent an operation for appendicitis here today. The operation was entirely successful.

The operation was performed at the clinic of Professor A. W. Meyer, the famous German surgeon who saved Mrs. Tunney's life when she was close to death from an abdominal abscess on Brioni island in the Adriatic this spring.

Mrs. Tunney, the former Polly Lauder, Greenwich, Conn., heiress, was taken to the clinic by her husband yesterday. There was no emergency but an operation was deemed advisable.

UNAWARE OF OPERATION

Tunney left his wife at the clinic last night and returned to his apartments in the Hotel Esplanade. He was still at the hotel when reached by International News Service on the telephone at 9 o'clock this morning, and was unaware that Dr. Meyer had already begun the operation.

"You certainly caught me this time," the elusive ex-champion said. "I was just going to call the clinic to find out about it."

Tunney at first refused to confirm or deny that the operation had been decided upon, but finally added:

"You may consider this my confirmation."

The Tunneys arrived here early this week from France, and immediately called to see Dr. Meyer. The visit gave rise to erroneous reports that Tunney himself had to undergo an operation. But this was ridiculed both by the surgeon and the fighter himself.

GIVES OUT DETAILS

Through his secretary, Tunney later gave to International News Service details of the operation.

"The operation lasted half an hour and was a full success," the ex-fighter said. "Mrs. Tunney's appendix was removed because of its condition due to the abscess."

"The operation proceeded normally, and there were no complications whatever. Things turned out exactly as Professor Meyer predicted when he operated on Mrs. Tunney at Brioni."

"My absence during the operation was more or less according to plan, Dr. Meyer wishing to spare me too much excitement. Mrs. Tunney behaved most bravely, I am told."

TON LITTERS BECOME HABIT

Stoutsville Farmer Now Has Three Exceptional Pork Records To Credit.

Val Valentine, of Stoutsville, is the second farmer in Fairfield Co., if not in the state, to produce three ton litters in one year.

Mr. Valentine sold the hogs as soon as they were of good market weight. The first litter sold was a litter of eleven that weighed 2230 lb. at 165 days of age, and the second litter of nine pigs weighed 2050 lb. at 170 days of age, and the third litter of ten weighed 2080 lb. at 160 days of age. This is considerably less than the 180 days allowed. The 30 pigs were all fed together in a self feeder that Mr. Valentine made himself. They were fed corn and a mixture of tankage and oil meal in the feeder, with a small amount of slop made from middlings.

Mr. Valentine has raised five ton litters in the last four years which is the record for Fairfield-co.

During the last four years Mr. Valentine has tried force feeding, and also tried carrying them along and finishing them out on new corn. He stated yesterday that he is going to use that method entirely from now on.

VISITOR RENEWS SOCIAL BATTLE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—The place of Mrs. "Dolly" Gann, sister of Vice President Charles Curtis, in the social sun of the capital again loomed across the horizon today.

Isabel MacDonald, daughter of the visiting British, prime minister and his official hostess when he is in London, resuscitated the question by announcing that she would make three social calls before leaving for President Hoover's fishing camp.

YORK'S CRITIC GIVEN MEDAL

Platoon Commander, Who Doubtful Hero's Story Gains Decoration.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—(INS).—As a direct result of the flare up over the congressional medal awarded Sergt. Alvin C. York, Tennessean mountaineer, credited with killing 15 Germans and capturing 132 at Chatel Chehery, France, Oct. 8, 1918, Sergt. Bernard Early, Co. G, 328th Inf., of Connecticut, York's platoon commander, probably will receive the distinguished cross today.

Sergt. Early it was who started the furore against York's claim for which the Tennessean was given the highest award this government has to bestow for exceptional valor. The decoration Early is expected to get, is the next coveted by soldiers.

The army's decoration board held a special session and is understood to have recommended that Secretary Good grant the award at today's re-enactment of the battle which made York famous. A letter in the files of the war department dated back in 1920, was dug out and it was used as the basis for the decoration board's action on the suggestion of Maj. Gen. Wells, deputy chief of staff.

The letter called attention at that time to a belief held by many officers and men of the brigade to which the 328th Inf. was attached, that Early as the noncommissioned officer who gave the original order to advance with 17 men against the German stronghold held by 200 Germans, should have been given the D. S. C.

FIRE FIGHTERS DO FAST WORK

Firemen On E. Franklin-St. Extinguish Blaze—Adjoining Houses Saved.

The local fire department made its first call in a month's time Friday when it was called to the residence of Carl Miller on E. Franklin-st. to extinguish a burning, out-building in the rear of his property.

This shed was located between the residence of Miller owned by W. L. Henn and Daniel Bowman. The fire fighters made fast accomplishments with their skilled work. When they arrived things looked dangerous as the fire was spreading to the west side of the Bowman residence and was licking around the Miller home.

The first move of the firemen was to make things safe for the two residences to which the fire was headed. A steady flow of water played on the shed and also upon the two adjoining buildings until the final spark was killed.

ONE CONVICT KILLS ELEVEN DURING FIGHT

Damage In Colorado Penitentiary Revolt Is Placed at $500,000.

CANON CITY, Colo., Oct. 5.—(INS).—A pall of sadness and even traces of terror still hung over this city today with the passing excitement and horror over the brutal slaying of guards and convicts during an orgy of bloodshed unprecedented in the history of western penal institutions.

The death toll of the bloody state penitentiary riot stood at 12—seven guards and five convicts; a score were suffering from wounds and injuries sustained during the 17 hour riot precipitated by Danny Daniels, arch-slayer, in his desperate attempt to escape, along with four other convict companions.

It was definitely established today that Daniels caused 11 of the 12 deaths. Three guards were killed in the early rioting and Daniels mercilessly slew four other guards, shooting them down in cold blood within the prison walls. He then sent a "mercy" shot into Jimmy Pardue, co-conspirator, who had been injured; shot down three of his other followers, and then committed suicide to end the bloody siege in the "tomb of living men."

The property damage from fire, machine gun and rifle bullets and dynamite was fixed at $500,000.

The chapel, mess hall, library and two cell houses were practically destroyed, and a third cell house—No. 3, the house of charnel—will have to be rebuilt.

One prisoner, unidentified, is said to have become a raving maniac.

Nine hundred prisoners are temporarily housed in tents in the prison yard.

Four separate investigations into the outbreak and rioting which resulted in such great bloodshed got under way today. The federal government, Governor Adams, Warden F. E. Crawford, and a coroner's jury will probe the mutiny and massacre, and try to learn how the revolvers used by Daniels and Pardue in starting the riot were smuggled into the prison.

Authorities declared today that Daniels and his murderous crew were supplied with only four antiquated weapons—until they secured rifles of guards whom they overpowered, and then killed.

DENIES ARSENAL RAID

Warden Crawford denied that the prisoners made a successful raid upon the prison arsenal immediately following the bedlam that broke loose when Guard Erwin was shot down at the end of the noon meal Thursday.

Governor Adams, after an inspection of the prison, was amazed at the enormous damage. He pledged himself to see that the institution's buildings were restored, and commended Warden Crawford for his attitude in refusing to comply with the ultimatum of Daniels and his riot crew who demanded a "free getaway, or we will kill every guard in here."

Governor Adams complimented the warden, the militia and other officers, who exploded some 7,000 machine gun and rifle shots during the 17 hours siege, for the "fine way in which the situation was handled."

POULTRY EXHIBIT TO FEATURE SHOW

The poultry raisers of Pickaway-co will be pleased to learn that a special poultry disease and parasite control exhibit is under preparation for the Pumpkin Show.

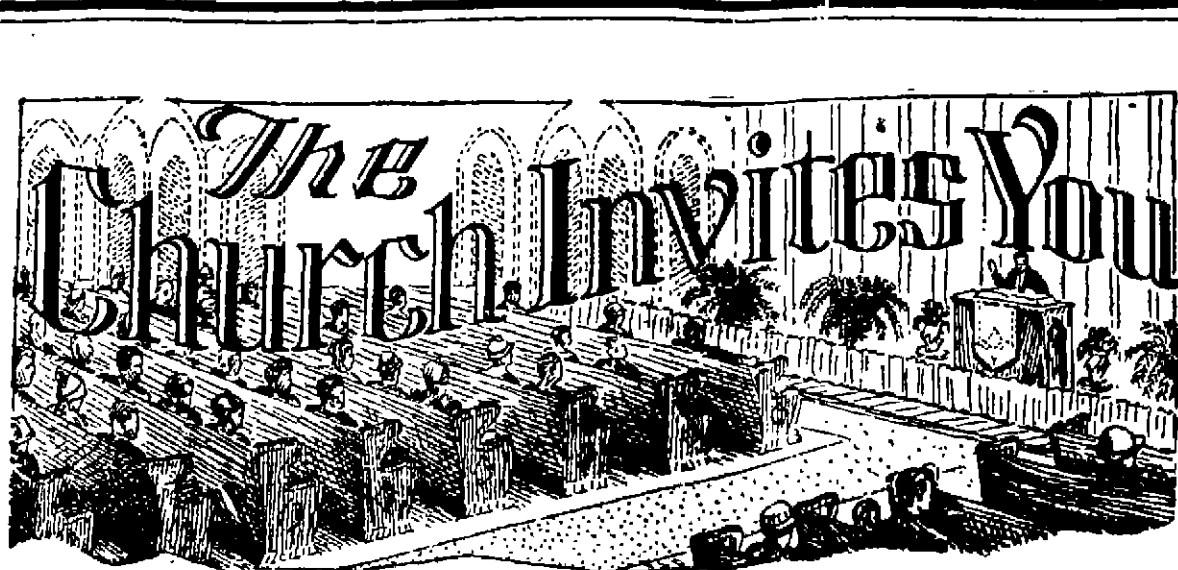

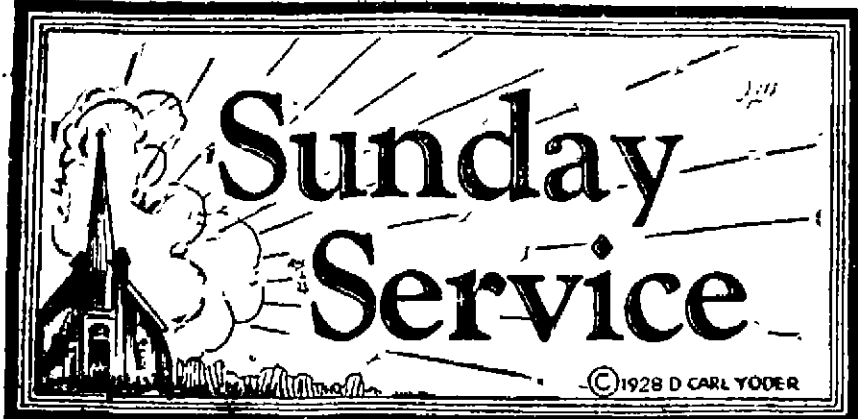

The exhibit which is provided through cooperation of the State Department of Agriculture and the Farm Bureau will be housed in the Farm Bureau tent on E. Main-st. This exhibit depicts the live habits of the tape and round worms, two of the worst internal parasites of the fowl. The common symptoms of roup, chicken pox and tuberculosis will be shown in this exhibit.

An authority on these subjects, will be assigned to accompany the exhibit and discuss poultry disease problems with all who are interested.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Oct. 5.—William J. "Fingey" Connors, Sr., widely known newspaper publisher and a dominant figure in Great Lakes shipping, died today of a heart attack. He was 72 years old.

World Religious News

A proposal to establish a Christian socialist church in Holland has recently been made. This church would have no credal basis other than its acknowledgement of Christ, the primacy of the Bible and its belief in socialism as a movement to replace the present order of society by a more Christian system.

The Institute of Social and Religious Research in a study of 179 counties in 44 states reports that they found one church to every 463 inhabitants, ranging from one church for 163 persons to one church for 11,000 people.

Mohammedanism in Great Britain will soon have new headquarters in West Kensington, London. A site has been purchased for the erection of a mosque to cost approximately $500,000.

The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago had in its August graduating class 113 persons, representing 25 states and five foreign countries and covering 19 evangelical denominations. This institute recently began their fall term of lectures in the radio school of the Bible being broadcast each week over station WMBI. The courses will include a series of inspirational lectures on "The Church at Work" by Rev. C. H.

HOW DOES CHRISTIAN EDUCATION IN THE PROGRAM OF THE CHURCH DIFFER FROM CHARACTER EDUCATION IN THE PROGRAM OF THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS?

Character education trains human beings in the art of behaving decently toward one another; Christian education trains human beings in the art of behaving rightly toward the Divine Being. Character education is interested chiefly in life here and now; Christian education is interested in life here and hereafter. Character education is interested chiefly in "the good life." Christian education is interested as well in the highest, the best life. Character education aims only at social adjustment; Christian education aims also at cosmic adjustment. Character education is interested in the nature of God and of Jesus Christ.

Education seeks only human approval for individual conduct; Christian education also seeks divine approval for individual behavior. Character education aims at temporal values; Christian education aims as well at eternal values. Discussion on Questions S.S. Lesson

Recognizing our Debt to Others, Mark 12:28-31, James 2:14-17 for Sunday, Oct. 6.

It was Tuesday of Jesus' last week on earth. He was subjected to a series of questions, the intent of which was to entrap him in his words. He met his questioners with shrewd and convincing answers. Finally a lawyer stepped forward with the test question, "What commandment is first of all?"

V. 29. "Jesus answered, the first is hear, O Israel; the Lord our God, the Lord is One." The unity of the Godhead is the basis of the true religion as opposed to heathenism. We could not have a heaven full of conflicting deities.

V. 30. "And thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, with all thy soul, and with all thy mind, and with all thy strength." With all thy heart implies the directing to God of all our desires, passions, emotions and affections. With all thy soul implies personal centered about will power. With all thy mind implies intelligent love. With all thy strength calls for all physical energies.

V. 31. "The second is this, Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself." There is none other commandment greater than these. Sympathy and understanding, putting ourselves into another's place, these are the secrets of a neighborly love. Our neighbors, according to the parable of the Good Samaritan, are all those who need us, wherever they are. "There is none other commandment greater than these," because love is the chief quality and these two commandments show us to whom we are to give love and how we are to give it.

Vs. 32, 33. "And the scribe said, 'To love him is much more than all whole burnt offerings and sacrifices.' Love is much greater than sacrifices because it is that which the sacrifices symbolize.

V. 34. "And when Jesus saw that he answered discretely, he said unto him, Thou art not far from the kingdom of God. And no man after that darst ask him any question." What we believe has a powerful influence in determining our relations with God, and a general acceptance of Christian faith puts one near the kingdom in this respect. He would be in the kingdom when he owned Jesus as his Saviour and accepted him as his Lord.

DOING NEEDED WORK WELL

Many years ago there lived in Scotland a man named John McAdam who was greatly interested in his family history. He traced his lineage back almost to Adam, the first man, and was eager to clear up some doubtful relations when his neighbors called upon him with the request that he improve the highway through his farm. They said that the worst stretch of road in all Scotland was the one through his estate and they begged him to make it better.

John was a little provoked that his interesting study should be interrupted and he determined that he would make a road once and for all time, that never again when he was engaged in study would he be disturbed. So he had several feet of clay hauled off of the road and placed crushed rock as a lower layer and then finer rock on top of that; he then rolled it down well and bound the surface with water and said to himself, "There, I guess that will last long enough to give me a chance on my history."

TESTIMONY OF A COLLEGE BOY.

A college boy, when asked what he derived from a service of worship said, "One thing I know—the worship service has been the directive force in my life. When I am in a low level, it stimulates me, as it lifts me to a level where it is easy and a joy to believe in God."

The enrichment of life comes in no other way than by cultivating and reconstructing personality. This enriching experience can be attained through learning the art of worship.

WORLD RELIGIOUS NEWS

A proposal to establish a Christian socialist church in Holland has recently been made. This church would have no credal basis other than its acknowledgement of Christ, the primacy of the Bible and its belief in socialism as a movement to replace the present order of society by a more Christian system.
The Institute of Social and Religious Research in a study of 179 counties in 44 states reports that they found one church to every 463 inhabitants, ranging from one church for 163 persons to one church for 11,000 people.
Mohammedanism in Great Britain will soon have new headquarters in West Kensington, London. A site has been purchased for the erection of a mosque to cost approximately $500,000.
The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago had in its August graduating class 113 persons, representing 25 states and five foreign countries and covering 19 evangelical denominations. This institute recently began their fall term of lectures in the radio school of the Bible being broadcast each week over station WMBL. The courses will include a series of inspirational lectures on "The Church at Work" by Rev. C. H.

Benson, "Introductory Studies in the Life of Paul" by Mrs. Iris McCord and Bible studies presented by Rev. J. O. Duffy.
Including the Cardinals residing at the Vatican, the total number of residents in the Vatican City is 523, according to a list just submitted to the Pope showing those having a right to citizenship. It is therefore the smallest sovereign state in the world, being even smaller than the tiny republic of San Marino.

HOW DOES CHRISTIAN EDUCATION IN THE PROGRAM OF THE CHURCH DIFFER FROM CHARACTER EDUCATION IN THE PROGRAM OF THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS?

Character education trains human beings in the art of behaving decently toward one another; Christian education trains human beings in the art of behaving rightly toward the Divine Being. Character education is interested chiefly in life here and now; Christian education is interested in life here and hereafter. Character education is interested chiefly in "the good life"; Christian education is interested as well in the highest, the best life. Character education aims only at social adjustment; Christian education aims also at cosmic adjustment. Character education is interested in life here and hereafter. Recognizing our Debt to Others, Mark 12:28-34; James 2:14-17 for Sunday, Oct. 6.

It was Tuesday of Jesus' last week on earth. He was subjected to a series of questions, the intent of which was to entrap him in his words. He met his questioners with shrewd and convincing answers. Finally a lawyer stepped forward with the test question, "What commandment is first of all?"

V. 29. "Jesus answered, the first is hear, O Israel; the Lord our God, the Lord is One." The unity of the Godhead is the basis of the true religion as opposed to heathenism. We could not have a heaven full of conflicting deities.

V. 30. "And thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, with all thy soul, and with all thy mind, and with all thy strength." With all thy heart implies the directing to God of all our desires, passions, emotions and affections. With all thy soul implies personality centered about will power. With all thy mind implies intelligent love. With all thy strength calls for all physical energies.

V. 31. "The second is this, Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself." There is none other commandment greater than these. Sympathy and understanding, putting ourselves into another's place, these are the secrets of a neighborly love. Our neighbors, according to the parable of the Good Samaritan, are all those who need us, wherever they are. "There is none other commandment greater than these," because love is the chief quality and these two commandments show us to whom we are to give love and how we are to give it.

Vs. 32, 33. "And the scribe said, 'To love him is much more than all whole burnt offerings and sacrifice.' Love is much greater than sacrifices because it is that which the sacrifices symbolize.

V. 34. "And when Jesus saw that he answered discretely, he said unto him, Thou art not far from the kingdom of God. And no man after that darst ask him any question." What we believe has a powerful influence in determining our relations with God, and a general acceptance of Christian faith puts one near the kingdom in this respect. He would be in the kingdom when he owned Jesus as his Saviour and accepted him as his Lord.

V. 14. "What doth it profit, my brethren, if a man say he hath faith, but have not works? Can that faith save him?" James emphasizes the need of practical Christianity, activity as well as faith being an essential part of Christian duty.

Vs. 15, 16. "If a brother or sister be naked and in lack of daily food, and one of you say unto them, go in peace, be ye warmed and filled; and yet he giveth not to him the things needful for his body; what doth it profit?" Jesus gives a practical answer. Will mere words make warm and mere names hide nakedness?

V. 17. "Even so faith, if it have not works, is dead." Faith is the cause of works and works is the fruit of faith. Both growing together work the gospel out into its full application in our social life and in all the world's problems.

DOING NEEDED WORK WELL

Many years ago there lived in Scotland a man named John McAdam who was greatly interested in his family history. He traced his lineage back almost to Adam, the first man, and was eager to clear up some doubtful relations when his neighbors called upon him with the request that he improve the highway through his farm. They said that the worst stretch of road in all Scotland was the one through his estate and they begged him to make it better.

John was a little provoked that his interesting study should be interrupted and he determined that he would make a road once and for all time, that never again when he was engaged in study would he be disturbed. So he had several feet of clay hauled off of the road and placed crushed rock as a lower layer and then finer rock on top of that; he then rolled it down well and bound the surface with water and said to himself, "There, I guess that will last long enough to give me a chance on my history."

LAST QUARTER BRINGS DEFEAT FOR TIGER 11

Circleville High School Defeated At Frankfort By 19 To 13 Score.

A bunch of fighting Tigers, bleeding and bruised, representing Circleville High school, met their second defeat in the gridiron season Friday, when they were defeated by Frankfort High by the score of 19 to 13.

The game was won in the last minute of play by the black and gold clad warriors when a complete pass from Cohen to Gilmore was good for 30 yards and also a touchdown, together with being successful in kicking goal for the extra point, which made the score 19 to 13.

In the first quarter of the game the Tigers seemed to just slip through and over the Frankfort line as if there was none there and at several times they threatened the Frankfort goal line by fighting deeply into their territory. Both teams were pretty even in the first quarter and the quarter ended with no score being made by either team.

TIGERS SCORE FIRST

But quite a different thing happened in the second quarter when the Tigers, seemingly with renewed hope and strength, succeeded in totting the pigskin across the Frankfort goal line for a touchdown, but failed to score the extra point.

Then by a series of downs the Tigers again shoved the ball across the line and increased their score seven more points.

Then after another series of plunges and hard tackling by both teams the half ended with the score 13 to 0 in favor of the Circleville Tigers.

But in the next half things began to brighten up a bit for the Frankfort team when Orr in a line plunge eluded the Tiger tacklers and ran 30 yards for a touchdown. The Frankfort lads then failed to score any point and the battle waged between the teams and the quarter ended with the score still in the Tigers' favor.

JINX IS FATAL

The last quarter was the one that was the jinx to the Tigers for in this quarter Frankfort completed passes which were almost impossible and with only five minutes of the game yet to be played they succeeded in making the touchdown that brought them within one point of the Tigers. But fate would not have it so and in the next few minutes Frankfort again completed one of those freak passes and scored another touchdown and point thereby winning the game.

Bob Rector suffered a very badly bruised eye, being forced to leave the field in the last minutes of the last quarter.

Davis, Wilson, Adkins and Heiskell also played their usual game for Circleville.

Circleville's line also did its part and subdued every attack that came their way until the brick-wall was broken in the last quarter.

Orr and Cohen, of the opposition, played one of the most superior games of football ever witnessed by local enthusiasts.

Frankfort suffered 30 yards in penalties, while Circleville's limit was cut to 10 yards.

Approximately 125 local enthusiasts witnessed the hard fought battle.

WILMINGTON LOSES TO WASHINGTON 11

WASHINGTON C. H., Oct. 5.—Washington High School's Blue Lions, with Moon and Armbrust again doing the heavy ball totting, claimed a 13 to 0 victory from Wilmington High in the opening South Central Ohio League game here Friday afternoon, with almost 1500 people looking on Noon's hard-driving line plunging. Armbrust's flashy end runs and a couple of nice dashes by Thornburg on a reverse play featured the Washington offense.

In the other league game, Chillicothe overwhelmed Greenfield McClain, 38 to 0, at Greenfield.

Pickaway-Twp Girls Are Victors and Boys Are Losers At Stoutsville.

Pickaway-twp girls and boys teams journeyed to Stoutsville Friday to try their luck at playing recreation ball with the Stoutsville squad. The result was that the girls won, 15 to 12, and the boys lost, 6 to 1. Both games were very close and exciting, the boys' game being closer than the score indicates. The entire high school was dismissed for the trip, class periods being reduced to 35 minutes in order that all classes be dismissed at 2 o'clock.

Automobiles furnished by Margorie Carroll, Clara Buchanan, Ross Dodd, Charles Boggs, Hoyt Timmons, Marshal Spangler, Robert Miller, Ralph Enoch, Raymond Paxton, Francis McKenzie, Galen Mowry, Albert Waple, Miss Wertman, Mr. Althaus, Mr. Meyer and Mr. Seitz made the trip very enjoyable as many Pickaway roomers were unloaded on the sidelines.

THE GRANDEST SHOW EVER PUT ON!

—with the greatest array of stage and screen celebrities ever identified with one picture...

ZIEGFELD stars singing Ziegfeld hits—Helen Morgan singing "Bill," and "Can't Help Loving That Man;" Jules Bledsoe singing "Old Man River;" Aunt Jemima and the Ziegfeld Plantation Singers rendering "Hey, Feller" and "Come On, Folks." The hits of the musical comedy the music for which was written by Jerome Kern, the lyrics by Oscar Hammerstein, 2nd. A brilliant Universal cast, in action and dialogue, headed by Laura La Plante, Joseph Schildkraut, Otis Harlan, Alma Rubens, Emily Fitzroy, Jane La Verne, and hundreds of others. THE BIGGEST NAMES IN SHOW BUSINESS.

Carl Laemmle's talking and singing triumph!

A HARRY POLLARD PRODUCTION

GLITTERING! GORGEOUS! GLAMOROUS!

EDNA FERBER's mighty novel and Florenz Ziegfeld's incomparable musical comedy combined and transformed into the most glittering, gorgeous, glamorous entertainment ever presented by this or any other theatre—anywhere, any time!

Imagine it! The stars and hits of a musical comedy that drew crowds at $7.70 per seat in New York right here on our screen—plus the romance of the ages wrought into a picture as broad, as deep, as sweeping and as resistless as life itself.

You'll see scenes that plumb the depths and reach the heights of human experience; you'll hear sounds that vibrate on the heartstrings of all mankind, for SHOW BOAT is more than Universal's Singing and Talking Triumph—IT MARKS A NEW ERA IN ENTERTAINMENT!

NOTHING TO EXCESS

The cigarette, one-time pernicious weed, evil magnet of young boys, stunter of growth and target for vituperation of reform societies, has at last arisen from the ranks of vice and has taken its place alongside listerine, "life-savers," and yeast cakes as a benefactor of mankind. The benefits derived from smoking these little nicotine-laden cylinders have been proclaimed by advertisements in newspapers, magazines, and bill-boards throughout the country, and so convincingly has it been done that we have almost come to the belief that if a person doesn't smoke he is jeopardizing his health.

The claims of the tobacco companies are very alluring. They say cigarettes make girls thin and men fat, that they coat one's lungs thereby protecting them from the attacks of germs, that they add yards to Babe Ruth's hefty drives, that they steady Walter Hagen's nerves when he makes a difficult golf shot, that they soothe the throat of your favorite actress, that they give Al Jolson his boundless "pep" and, by some even, that they won the World War—rather sizeable claims for any weed. In the face of the foregoing, is it any wonder that one reaches for a "fag" instead of a sweet?

But on the other hand there are some who look upon cigarettes as still the same "coffin tacks" they were wont to be known as a few years ago. Among the most fervent protagonists of the anti-tobaccoists is the famed Doctor Kellogg, outstanding vegetarian and directing genius of Battle Creek Sanitarium. His philippics against the use of nicotine will hold their own with the testimonials of any athlete contained in the advertisements of current periodicals. After reading what he has to say upon the subject, a smoker invariably suffers a pain in the heart, an irritation in the throat, or a knife-like stab in the lungs.

In the final analysis, however, the personal enjoyment one gets out of smoking will undoubtedly continue to account for its great popularity regardless of whatever harmful effects it may, or may not, have. If cigarettes were as salubrious as painted by tobacco companies, they would be unanimously accepted overnight, and conversely, if they packed the dynamite some declare they do, they would be dropped like an elevator. The best advice we know is summed up in the French philosophy, "Nothing to excess."

Health Hint

Splinters should never be neglected, especially in the foot, on account of possible infection from sock or stocking. When using a needle to remove a splinter, be sure to heat it over a flame to sterilize it. For this a burning match will do.

BEEF TRUST IN TALKIE CHORUS

Heavyweight Ladies Have Big Number In "Dance of Life" At Met.

Twelve women of generously ample proportions, not one of them weighing less than 180 pounds, got their "break" on the screen when Paramount made the all-talking, all-singing, all-dancing picture, "The Dance of Life," from the successful stage play, "Burlesque" at the Metropolitan theater next week. The "beef-trust" chorus has a composite poundage of 2,000, the exact figure demanded by Directors John Cromwell and Edward Sutherland.

The Amazon chorus appears in an opening sequence of "The Dance of Life," in which Hal Skelly and Nancy Carroll are featured. Gordona Bennett and her daughter, Miss La Reno, were the first two to be signed. Miss Bennett has been on the stage since she was three years old. Miss La Reno, for the past three years, has been a member of the chorus in a Los Angeles burlesque show. Cora Beach Shumway was the prima donna with Eva Tanguay in "Sambo Girl" in 1909. One of the largest and, hence, one of the most statuesque ladies in the group is Charlotte Ogden with years of experience as a New York show girl behind her. Kay Deslys, an "end" girl of the line, has been in the show business 20 years. Europe contributed Magda Blom, once a well-known classical dancer of the Swedish stage.

GRAND BOOKS FAMOUS FILM

'Show Boat' With All Star Cast Recruited From Broadway Opens Sunday.

With virtually every large motion picture company in the industry bidding, Universal Pictures Corporation was the one which obtained the motion picture rights to Edna Ferber's best-selling novel, "Show Boat."

Made into a million dollar super-talking picture, "Show Boat" will be screened at the Grand theater starting Sunday with Laura La Plante and Joseph Schildkraut in the roles of the great lovers, Magnolia Hawks and Gaylord Ravenal, a show boat star and a Mississippi river gambler, respectively. Universal considers that it bought the motion picture rights at a bargain for $65,000. These rights were bought before the book had reached the peak of its sensational selling record and before Florenz Ziegfeld had purchased it and made it into a musical extravaganza. Harry Pollard directed "Show Boat," while the supporting cast includes Otis Harlan, Alma Rubens, Emily Fitzroy, Elise Bartlett, Neely Edwards, Jane La Verne, Blanche Craig, Theodore Lorich, and many others. Helen Morgan, Jules Bledsoe, Aunt Jemina and the Plantation Singers, from the Ziegfeld show, appear in songs and choruses.

GREAT DRAMA AT CLIFTONA

"Madame X" Will Be First All Talking Photoplay of Anniversary Week.

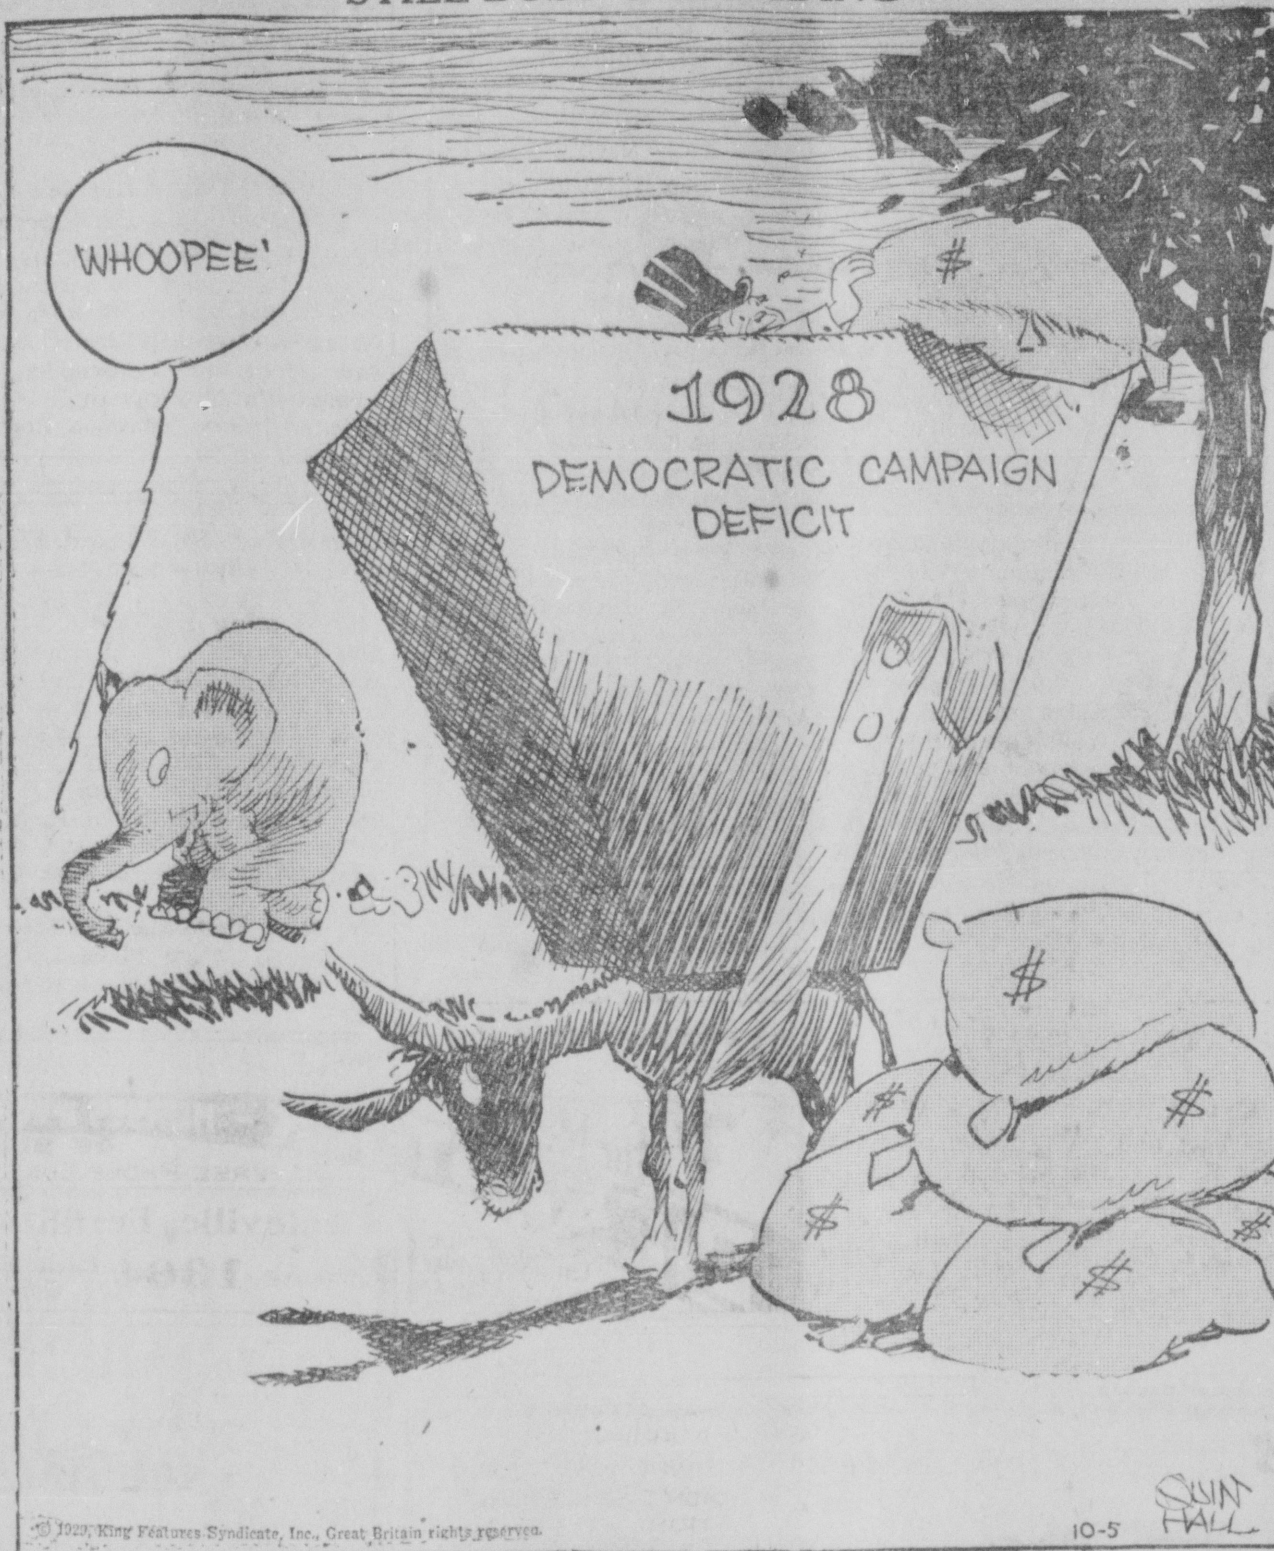

"Madame X," one of the greatest masterpieces of the drama, a favorite of great actors and of the theatre-going public alike, has been translated into a new entertainment medium, the talking film, and in that guise will be seen for the first time in Circleville at the Cliftona theatre Sunday.

The new picture is a Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production and is an all-talking feature. Ruth Chatterton, who left the theatre, where she had gained an enviable reputation as a dramatic and a musical comedy star as well, to enter the films at the time the talking picture made its appearance, plays the title role, a role originally created on the French stage by Sarah Bernhardt. The remainder of the cast is also a noteworthy one, composed of many stage and screen celebrities. Lewis Stone plays the husband of the tragic and mysterious woman and Raymond Hackett plays her son, who, as a young attorney at the bar, defends her when she goes on trial for murder, without, knowing that she is his mother.

Others in the cast are Holmes Herbert, Richard Carle, Sidney Toler, Eugene Bessner, Ullrich Haupt, Claud King, Chappell Dossett, John P. Ewing and others.

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE.

Eddie Regan, once a member of a New York gang, has escaped and gone to Virginia, where he meets Marian Thorndike, with whom he falls in love. He forgets the "gang girl," Bernice Veressi, with whom he once fancied himself in love, in his dreams of Marian. Penfield Paradine, last member of an old aristocratic Southern family, whom Eddie befriends, dies and makes Eddie his sole heir. Eddie declares his love to Marian, but she discourages him and tells him she expects to marry Tom Freeman. Eddie goes to call on Marian, but Freeman tries to eject him from the house bodily. A fight ensues, and Marian tells Freeman to leave. Eddie tells Marian of his past, and she explains how impossible it is for him to think of love and marriage in connection with her. Discouraged, Eddie leaves the country to go to Richmond.

Now Go On with the Story

CHAPTER XXVI.

EDDIE went to the largest hotel and registered. "You have no baggage with you, Mr. Regan?" the clerk asked, looking at the register.

"I am buying some things and I'll have them sent up to the room," he explained.

He went down the principal street and his reflection in the store windows looked thoroughly shabby. He was fitted in a clothing store with a new suit of blue serge and before he left he had bought twenty-five dollars' worth of haberdashery besides. While the alterations were being made on his new suit, he went into the grill room of the hotel and ordered luncheon. Somehow the atmosphere of a restaurant restored to him something of his old care-free demeanor. He lit a cigarette while waiting for the meal and filled his lungs with smoke. Again that night he returned to the grill, dressed smartly in his new clothes. Later on he meant to go to a movie.

A hand clapped him on the shoulder from behind and turning he looked up at a dark, smiling face.

"Well I'll be darned—Mike Arno!"

Eddie was on his feet, shaking hands with the tall, daffily groomed man. Mike Arno was older than Eddie—and wiser, too, if there was any significance in the brightness of his dark eyes and the fox-like smile around his thin lips. Never exactly a member of the Big Guy's gang Arno had, nevertheless, been of his breed and had been referred to as the "Lone Wolf."

He sat down beside Eddie and a cloud of cigarette smoke rose around his head.

"I heard about the vanishing act you did through a bathroom window, Kid," he said, with a sardonic appreciation. "What in hell was it all about?"

Eddie shrugged. Arno looked at him with bright discerning eyes. "If you took it on the run because you were having any trouble with the Big Guy—you needn't wait any longer to go back. I suppose you've heard the way news?"

Eddie shook his head. "The Big Guy got knocked off. He went out with the mob one night—a thing he should never have done—and the cops was laying for 'em. They got the Big Guy with seven or eight bullets right through the chest. The whole mob has gone to smash—so you ain't got a thing on earth to worry about—Kid. You can go back to

New York any time you want to."

A swirl of amazement—of relief—passed through Eddie. Subconsciously he had carried with him a sense of menace ever since he fled from New York—and now it was ended. The Big Guy was dead. It scarcely seemed possible, so filled with brazen dominance had the mob's leader been on that last night back there. The hand that had held the point of life or death for his underlings was now futile and motionless. A load was lifted from Eddie's chest. No longer was he an exile and an outcast from his native city. Mike Arno informed him further that the sub-leaders of the gang had been arrested and speedily convicted. But for his own last minute flight he, too, might now be dead—or in prison. A shiver of relief ran through him.

"You don't seem to feel very bad about it," Mike Arno suggested.

"The Big Guy got knocked off" Arno told him

"I don't," Eddie said. "The Big Guy got what was coming to him. He made a lot of little guys do the dirty work while he got the big dough. Thank God I broke away in time. What are you doing down here in the sticks, Mike?"

Arno closed one eye slowly. "I'm a business man," he said, "and there's a rich bozo here in town that's going back with me to New York and learn how to tap a telegraph wire and beat the races."

Eddie couldn't help grinning. "Do you mean to tell me, Mike, they're still falling for that old game?"

Arno narrowed his shoulders. "Why not? There's a million suckers never heard of it yet. But listen, Kid, you haven't told me yet what's your own racket down here in Dixie."

Coffee was served to them and Eddie felt comfortably expansive. His principal companion for months past had been an ignorant old negro, and it was good again to be with someone who knew what was going on in the world.

"Why, Mike, I'm not on any racket a-tall. You see this suit of clothes I've got on?"

"I was looking at it," Mike said. "It looks pretty good—a little hick but O. K. I guess."

"That suit was bought with honest money, Mike. You see this sunburn on my face? Look at my hands." He thrust his palms upward against the table, and they were hard and calloused. "I got this way from working outdoors—in the open air."

Mike's eyes were puzzled. "All right, I'll bite. What's the answer?"

"Maybe you won't believe it, but I inherited a farm, Mike. I got off a freight train down here and one of the finest old gentlemen that ever lived took me into his house. He liked me and I liked him and he didn't have any relations. Before he kicked off he made a will and I got everything."

"You mean you inherited a plantation?"

"You might call it that." Mike whistled under his breath. "Well, we can't all be that lucky; some of us have to dig for a living. So you're running the place, are you? Going to stay with it?"

"I guess so." Mike leaned back and lit another cigarette. "Guys like you that fall in soft in life always get my goat. Take me. When I'm on a racket I'm keyed up all the time and you never know when you're going to get a bad break and have to give all your dough to a lawyer. You're lucky, Kid, to be out of it."

"I'll say I am."

"I saw Bernice last week back in the big town."

"Yeh?"

"Yeh. She's looking good, too. Funny thing about her. We were talking about you, Eddie. You know that that kid's crazy about you? On the level. Somebody gave her a couple of drinks and she started crying and raving about the way you treated her."

A dame like her—I don't suppose she could stay true forever to a guy, but—you can laugh if you want to—I'm damned if I don't believe she ain't even so much as squeezed anybody's hand since you ran out on her."

Bernice Veressi . . . her svelt, wicked beauty came rushing back like a visitation in Eddie's eyes . . . after all, she was his own kind . . . Bernice, she understood what it was all about . . .

Wild Bison Increase

Sweden's stock of wild bison is now the largest in Europe, if not in the world, according to Alarik Behm, director of the open-air museum of Skansen, in Stockholm. By means of protective legislation these animals are thriving in the vast bison park at Aongelsberg, in the province of Vaestmanland, and are rapidly multiplying.

Honey First Sweetener

Sugar is a comparatively recent addition to the household store. Until 100 years ago it was a luxury, and was not available commercially to anyone until the fourteenth century. Honey was its predecessor as a sweetening agent, while maple sugar was known to the Indians in some parts of North America.

Coffee Urns Long in Use

As far back as 1691 urns were in use in the Boston Coffee house. One of the largest manufacturers of coffee urns today claims to have made copper-tinned coffee, tea and water urns with tinned copper as steam coils, alcohol lamps or gas burners.

READ THE REASONS WHY

These Oldsmobile Owners Bought Their Cars

Nowhere is the thorough satisfaction that comes with Oldsmobile ownership more frequently or more definitely expressed than in the thousands of written messages which purchasers of Oldsmobile cars are constantly sending, of their own free will, to the Olds Motor Works.

Read the reasons why these owners bought Oldsmobiles—and their experiences in owning and driving Oldsmobiles.

"I like the pick-up and ease of handling of Oldsmobile—also its many new features. The location of the distributor on top of the engine is convenient. Radiator shutters are an excellent feature. Front end appearance and general good looks of the car appeal to me."
—Kingston, N. Y.

"Oldsmobile has attracted my attention for a long time, due to its constant perfection without radical changes. Its construction is sturdy throughout, and its engine develops a lot of horsepower for its size."
—Newark, Ohio

"My neighbor drove an Oldsmobile 11 years, and the car had a good record all that time. I looked at a new one, thought it the best proportioned car I ever saw, and bought it. I'm glad I did."
—Lebanon, Ohio

"In my opinion, Oldsmobile is a mighty good car for its price. For a small difference it gives an excellent oiling system; smoothly balanced crankshaft; smart appearance; and many other items that cheaper and lighter cars don't give."
—Paris, Ill.

These expressions of owner opinion are typical of thousands of others which tell the same story of brilliant performance, restful travel, and dependable operation.

Oldsmobile owners in your own community will express the same enthusiasm. Ask them yourself what they think of their cars. Then come in and examine Oldsmobile's fine features . . . and drive the car. The many sound reasons why Oldsmobile owners bought their cars will become more and more apparent to you as you become better acquainted with this fine car of low price.

LEGAL NOTICES

NOTICE OF ATTENDANCE TO THE CONSTITUTION OF OHIO.

ARTICLE XII, SECTION 2.

NOTICE TO ATTEND SECTION 2 OF ARTICLE XII, AND TO REPEAL SECTION 3 OF ARTICLE XII OF THE CONSTITUTION OF THE STATE OF OHIO, RELATING TO TAXATION.

As created by the General Assembly of the state of Ohio, three-fifths of the members elected to each house concurring therein.

That notice shall be submitted to the electors of the state, for their approval or rejection, at the election to be held on the first Monday after the first Monday in November, 1930, a proposal to amend section 2 of article XII and to repeal section 3 of article XII of the constitution of the state of Ohio, and section 2 of article XII, when submitted, to read as follows:

Sec. 2. No property, taxed according to value, shall be so taxed in excess of one and one-half per cent of its true value in money for all state and local purposes, but laws may be passed authorizing additional taxes to be levied outside of such limitation, either when approved by at least a majority of the electors of the taxing district voting on such proposal, or when provided for by the charter of a municipal corporation. Land and improvements thereon shall be taxed by value, and according to value. All taxes levied on the first day of January, 1913, of the state of Ohio or of any city, village, township, county or township in this state, which have been levied in behalf of the public schools of Ohio and the means of instruction in common schools, which bonds or other securities issued on the first day of January, 1913 and all bonds issued for the world war emergency fund, shall be exempt from taxation, and, without limiting the general power, subject to the provisions of article 13 of this constitution, to determine the subjects and methods of taxation or exemptions therefrom, general laws may be passed to exempt, in whole or in part, public school houses, houses used exclusively for public purposes, and public property used exclusively for public purposes, but all such laws shall be subject to alteration or repeal, and the value of all property so exempted shall, from time to time, be ascertained and published as may be directed by the general assembly.

SCHEDULE

The voters for the proposal shall exceed 100,000, the amendment shall go to effect January 1, 1931, and original section 2 and 3 of article XII of the constitution of the state of Ohio shall be repealed and annulled; but all levies for interest and sinking funds on bonds issued, or authorized prior to said date which are not subject to the statutory limit of fifteen mills on the aggregate value of taxation then in force, and all tax levies provided for by the conservancy act of Ohio and the sanitary district act of Ohio, as said laws are in force on said date, or the purposes of conservancy districts and sanitary districts organized prior to said date, and all tax levies for other purposes authorized by the General Assembly prior to said date or by vote of the electors of any political subdivision of the state, pursuant to laws in force on said date, shall be outside of said statutory limitation for and during a period of years extending beyond said date, as provided for by the charter of a municipal corporation pursuant to laws in force on said date, shall not be subject to the limitation of fifteen mills established by said amendment, and levies for interest and sinking funds on bonds issued or authorized prior to said date, shall be outside of said limitation to the extent required to enable any reduction in the amount of bonds property available for such services, to be raised imposed upon such property, as provided by laws thereafter passed.

It is further provided, that at the election, to be referred to, the ballots to be used for the submission of this amendment shall contain the full text of article XII, and section 2, as proposed to be amended and as recited therein.

Adopted March 19, 1929.

Light Sleepers
The hypnotic sleep of vertebrates is not usually deep, as the animals are roused without difficulty from their state of immobility. But, while generally motionless, they can still move their eyes and react optically. A hypnotized rabbit also reacts to the sound of a whistle.

Virtue Leads All
Virtue is the highest reward. Virtue truly goes before all things. Liberty, safety, life, property, parents, country and children, are protected and preserved. Virtue has all things in herself; he who has virtue has all things that are good attending him.—Plautus.

WANT TO JOIN HI-Y?

Are you a Hi-Y member? If not, wouldn't you like to become one? Wouldn't any boy be glad of the chance to belong to a club whose purpose is "to create, maintain and extend throughout the school and community, high standards of Christian character?" Are you interested?

If you want to join this national organization, you have your chance now. You may obtain an application blank from any Hi-Y member. Fill out and return it to the one from whom you receive it. Your name will then be brought before the class and considered for membership. This chance is open to sophomores, juniors and seniors. You have your opportunity, so act now.

RULES FOR FIRE DRILL

Fire prevention week, Oct. 6-12, will be observed following a proclamation by Gov. Myers Y. Cooper.

Regulations which will concern the high school pupils in regard to fire drills this year are as follows: Any sounding of the fire gong shall be a signal for the building to be emptied at once. Three rings will be the usual signal.

Only officials of the school or a fire marshal are permitted to ring the fire gong for a drill. Ringing of the gong by any other person shall be construed as giving a false alarm which is punishable by fine or imprisonment.

ORDER

Order is the first consideration in a fire drill. Pupils should WALK RAPIDLY but DO NOT RUN. Teachers should accompany pupils out of the building.

The following will be the order of march:

Those in rooms 10 and 12 will join to form a double file and march out in the south side or the left front door. Pupils in the library will follow pupils from rooms 10 and 12. Mr. Rife's room will form in double file and proceed out the front door followed by the pupils from Miss Brown's and Miss Yates' rooms who will join to form the double file. All those using the front exit will proceed to the side walk and then divide, half to the right and half to the left. Do not go beyond the alley to the north or Corwin-st. to the south. Auditorium will be emptied, one-half each way, through the rear doors.

Pupils in manual training and home economics will form double line in each case and march out the rear doors. The science rooms, will form a double file and proceed down the south stairway followed by all pupils from the study hall. Room 18 will form a double file followed by rooms 17 and 20 joining to form the double file and march out the north rear door. Those using the rear exits will proceed far enough to allow all to get out of the building but never beyond the cinder track. Pupils from room 15 are to follow those from the study hall.

Pupils should remain standing quietly in line until the signal to return to the building is given. This signal will be one long ring of the regular class bell. At this signal, all will "about face" and march back to their classes. A WELL-DRILLED SCHOOL MAY MEAN MANY LIVES SAVED.

CHAPEL

Helen K. Wittich, who had been granted a month's leave of absence, has recuperated, and was on hand to lead her first chapel of 1929-1930 school year Monday morning. She was warmly welcomed by the student body.

Principal Gephart read the scripture lesson which concerned Pharaoh's dream. The rest of the period was spent in song service.

SELECT JEWELRY

Principal Gephart sent letters of invitation to all jewelers of the city Wednesday, to the effect that the junior and senior classes would select their jewelry and complement their outfits. Tuesday Oct. 22 at 2 p.m.

The selection will be conducted as fairly and impartially as possible. Suggestions of rings and invitations will be submitted, although the name of the dealers will not be lost in order that no partiality may be shown.

HALLOWEEN PARTY

Decision to hold a Halloween party in the gym on Friday evening, Nov. 1, was made by the juniors at noon Monday.

President Rooney appointed the following committee which will act for the party: Refreshments, Martha Osborne, Clarence Barnhart, Lucille Kirkwood and Mildred Ritt; Decorating, Eloise Eldridge, Edward Bost, Charles Brown, Cleo Brown, Mildred Greenlee, Jeannette Ruff and Addison Ziener; program, Doris Peters, Margaret Carter, Dorothy Clark and Lucille Dumm.

The ring committee was advised to begin its selection of rings and pins and to prepare a report for a later meeting. Gertrude Pigman acted as class advisor.

SOPS. CELEBRATE

Thursday, the sophomores decided to have a masquerade party. Friday, Oct. 25, in the auditorium and gymnasium.

They also decided to discontinue monthly dues, that students should pay their back dues amounting to 25 cents and that any student, absent from a meeting without a written excuse approved by the president would be fined .05.

President Riegel then appointed committees for the coming Halloween party: Eats, Nina Denman, Zelma Betts, Jane Hitler and Marie Richey; Entertainment, Jean Fitzpatrick, Alice Briggs, Robert Greenlee, Albert Hoffman and Charles Plum; Decorating, Donald Wolf, Dorothy M. Glick, Waldo Hilyard and Elizabeth Martin, and Games, Dudley Mills, John Kelstead, Pat Kirwin and Donald White.

SENIORS HOLD MEETING

Advisability of having a pumpkin show booth was discussed at the class meeting Monday night. It was decided to have a booth of which the seniors will be in charge. A building committee was then appointed by President Russell, consisting of Edgar Clark, chairman, Emil Ross, Richard Nickerson and Edwin Haecker. A soliciting committee also was appointed, consisting of Margie Hunsicker, chairman, Peggy Courtwright and Mary Mae Haswell.

Due to unorderliness of the class Wilbur Adkins was appointed sergeant-at-arms.

SENIOR BAKE SALE

Seniors decided to have a bake sale Saturday, October 12, at the city building. The committee in charge of this consists of Margie Hunsicker, chairman, Peggy Courtwright and Mary Haswell.

A committee consisting of Ellen Leist, Evelyn Steele and Richard Nickerson with Peggy Courtwright as chairman was appointed to select invitations for the class.

Martha Mader and Margie Hunsicker, with Hugh Cartwright as chairman were appointed as a buying committee.

BANQUET DATE SET

Decision to hold the Washington C. H.-Circleville Hi-Y banquet Friday evening, Oct. 25 was made at the Hi-Y meeting held Tuesday noon with Vice-president Rooney presiding.

It was decided to retain last year's advisory council, consisting of T. O. Gilliland, Rev. B. C. DeCamp and C. R. Barnhart. This council with E. V. Donaldson of Columbus, and a speaker for the evening are to be invited to the banquet.

Application membership blanks were issued to each member to be given to their fellow students.

President Cartwright addressed the club in a talk in which he fully described Camp Nelson Dodd and thanked the club for giving him the opportunity to visit there last summer.

THESPIANS MEET

National Thespians held a meeting Monday evening. An announcement had been received from Paul Opp, national secretary of Thespians, that J. Wylie Fetherlin had been appointed regional director of Thespians work in the state of Ohio.

The club immediately planned to present a dramatic program in the near future.

A committee consisting of Mary Mae Haswell, Margie Hunsicker and Peggy Courtwright was appointed by President Greene to assist the director and to establish worthwhile dramatic contests with other schools.

Charles Fitzpatrick, Jeanne Green and Hugh Cartwright were appointed to a membership committee.

FIGHT A FLEETS

Glen and Betty Brown and Mary and Edna were elected president and vice-president respectively of the fleet.

Charles and Edna were elected as the fleet's first officers. A class of 1929-1930 was elected as the fleet's first officers.

Edna and Betty were elected as the fleet's first officers. The fleet's first officers were elected.

GIRL RESERVES MEET

Thursday the Girl Reserves opened their first meeting by singing "Come All Ye Y Girls." Mrs. Stevenson, then talked to the club about the work and advantages of the "Business and Professional Women's Club."

A motion was made and carried that any member absent from the meetings more than once a month, except because of sickness, should be automatically dropped from the club. Members who attended the initial meeting are:

Florence Celler, Helen Celler, Margie Hunsicker, Doris Peters, Wilma Pnubus, Virginia Richey, Mildred Ritt, Evelyn Steele and advisors, Miss Watson and Mrs. Stevenson.

MATHEMATIC PROGRESS

In some sections of the Mathematics department, classes are not as large as in former years while in other sections there are more pupils than before.

The freshman algebra sections are smaller than in former years, possibly due to the fact that the freshman class is not as large as in some other years. However, the percentage of those electing algebra compares favorably with that of former classes. Thus far the class has studied the four fundamental operations of addition, subtraction, multiplication and division with respect to positive and negative number; the transforming of rules into formulas, the substitution of one value or quantity for another and finding the answer to the resulting expression, the interpretation of bar, circle and broken line graphs, and the construction of these graphs. As a whole the class seems to be progressing.

The plane geometry sections are about average size. In studying the beginnings of mathematics, the class departed somewhat from the usual procedure. Believing that it is easier to remember facts discovered by oneself than to memorize facts which someone else has discovered, the pupils work out for themselves the fundamental definitions, axioms and postulates. As far as it is possible they shall follow the same method throughout the year.

The advanced algebra class is made up of seniors and juniors who have elected mathematics as one of their majors. It is the largest class ever maintained in this branch of study—also larger than any other one section in this department this year.

Due to the fact that it has been two years for some and three for others since elementary algebra has been studied, it was necessary to spend the first three weeks in review.

These people for the most part are expecting to enter college or some special scientific study. Hence the course has been designed to meet all college entrance requirements, as has the course in plane geometry.

At the same time there are some who may not be fortunate enough to study farther than high school or who may not be able to go to school, so the course has been made practical, and able to meet the future needs of the average high school graduate.

COMMERCIAL DEPT. NEWS

"Speed tests for the typists are due in the near future so typists had better limber up some," states Mr. Keeler, instructor of the commercial department.

A new system has been introduced into the shorthand classes whereby if a person leaves out a word in the lesson he has to rewrite the complete lesson 30 times. This system makes the student more careful when writing the lesson.

Business English classes will soon take up English work in pads and ready references.

Ida Walters and Margaret Myers, graduates of last year, are taking a post-graduate course in shorthand. These new students bring the total enrollment of the commercial department to 237 pupils, an increase of 77 over last year.

MILLS DECLARED WINNER

When a re-check of the sophomore class election ballots was held Wednesday, it was disclosed that Dudley Mills had been elected sergeant-at-arms instead of Miller Dunkle, as previously announced.

TO SING

Prof. Ellis Snyder, head of the department of voice in the Capital University Conservatory of Music, announced Wednesday that the personnel of the new chapel choir would include Priscilla Trimmer and Carl Leist formerly active in dramatic and musical circles here.

McCALLISTER RETURNS

Charles Maynard McCullister, vice-president of the Athletic Association who has been absent for the past week due to a fractured toe, returned yesterday.

WATTS SKINS SHIN

Fred Watts, while assisting the school team playing football Monday evening, was fouled against the south goal-post and suffered a badly skinned shin.

BOOK REPORT DATES

Dates scheduled for the first, second, and third book reports to be written in Mr. Fetherlin's English classes are:

Junior section B and freshmen sections A and C—Oct. 16, December 19, and January 9; Junior section A and freshmen section B—November 1, November 25 and January 31.

Dates on which book reports will be made in Miss Kuhlman's class are as follows:

October 25, November 15, December 13, January 17, and February 21.

Miss Watson's sophomore English class will report on books on the following dates:

October 25, November 23, January 25, and February 22. Seniors will report on different essays and orations at the time of study. One report on oration has been made. They will also be required to write a production of each type studied.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION NOTES

Margaret Mattinson's sophomore girls have organized two recreation ball teams. Jane Hitler and Dorothy L. Glick are captains of the teams.

Velma Watson's senior-junior girls recreation ball tournament is quite interesting for the juniors, this week. They have a lead of several points.

Miss Kuhlman's freshman girls have also organized into two recreation ball teams. Catherine Brown and Eleanor Davis are the captains.

OHIO HISTORY DAY

Ohio History day will be observed Oct. 6 at Logan Elm Park. A splendid program has been prepared for the annual homage to the Red Man by the president of the Ohio History Association—Mrs. Howard Jones.

It is hoped that the history students of C. H. S. will attend this celebration.

MIAMI STUDENT—Oxford, O.

A hoard of 1025 freshmen invaded Freshmen week, Monday, Sept. 16, the campus at beginning of this enrollment being the largest in the history of Miami, exceeds last year's figure by 221. Registration reached a total of 1,958 last Friday.

A school of fine arts at Miami, long a dream of President Upham, has materialized and is now in operation, with a complete faculty offering courses in three departments, Music, art and design, and architecture.

Forty-two professors have been added to the Miami University faculty for this year. New men and women are to appear in almost every department and school. One hundred and fifty freshmen answered the initial call for football at the beginning of Freshman week. This number far exceeds any previous turn-out.

Coach Ditmer has already reduced this squad to about 60 men. However, it is more than likely that some of those now on the squad will be replaced by others that are not at present in uniform.

MADER CHAMPION

John Mader, caddy golf champion of Pickaway-co is a member of the freshman class.

SPRAINS WRIST

William Robinson, eighth grade, was painfully injured Tuesday evening when he jammed his right wrist while practicing football.

ON GLEE CLUB

Elliott Barnhill, '29, vocalist of ability in recent operettas, has won a place in the Ohio Wesleyan university Glee Club. He and Emmett Barnhart have been pledged to Phi Gamma Delta, fraternity of which Calvin Coolidge is an illustrious member.

Harry Foster and Fred Pense were elected mayor and chief of police respectively for this week in lower special election class. If the pupils talk less than three times he is eligible for this office. This class under the instruction of Iris Pierce is weaving raphia for pocket books.

NEW DRAWING TEXT

The enrollment of the manual training department is about the same as previous years as there has been no noticeable increase.

A new text has been introduced into the department dealing with mechanical drawing in high school. The text is written by Prof. French of Ohio State University and is more general than the other.

ORCHESTRA PROSPECTS

"Although the orchestra has lost four of its members I feel confident that this year's orchestra will make as good a showing as that of last year if not a better one. In fact the prospects for this year's orchestra are very good," said C. F. Zaenke in orchestra practice Tuesday evening.

Mrs. I. F. Snyder and Miss Mary Snyder were visitors in Chillicothe Friday.

Social Events

Miss Allison Delaplaine, Editor, Phone 587.

SOCIAL MEETING OF EASTERN STAR

Circleville Chapter. Order of the Eastern Star will meet Tuesday evening in the Masonic Temple. Mrs. Lorin E. Lutz has arranged a program for this meeting composed of vocal and violin music, readings and dances. Mrs. Robert Gearhart is chairman of the refreshment committee.

To this meeting all members of the local chapter, and those living in this city, who are members of other chapters, are cordially invited. The meeting starts promptly at seven o'clock.

MARGARET SITTLER

ALMA MATER QUEEN
Miss Margaret Sittler, former student at Whittenburg, Co. 30, Springfield, has been chosen Alma Mater Queen this year. She is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Joseph Sittler of Columbus, and the niece of Mrs. I. N. Abernethy of N. Court-st., Circleville.

Miss Sittler, with fifteen hundred other students from Whittenburg, attended the Whittenburg-Ohio State football game Saturday afternoon.

TO SING SUNDAY AT ST. PHILLIPS

Mrs. Cecil Ward of Scioto-twp, will sing the offertory solo in St. Phillips Episcopal church, Sunday morning at 10:15 o'clock. Mrs. Ward possesses a fine soprano voice of rare beauty and won second prize in the recent Atwater-Kent Audition on September 27. She is a pupil of Mrs. Rolland P. Heiskell.

SON AND WIFE HERE FROM WEST

Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Sensenbrenner recently of Long Beach, California, are the guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Sensenbrenner of E. Mound-st. Sunday their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Emmons of Columbus will be entertained to dinner at their home.

The younger Mr. Sensenbrenner and his wife from the West expect to make an extended visit here.

ENTERTAINS CARD CLUB

Several guests were present Friday night when Miss Miriam Ruggles entertained her bridge club at her home on S. Court-st. Those outside the regular club were Mrs. Clark Will, Mrs. Robert Criswell, Mrs. Donald Morris, Mrs. Ned Groom, and Miss Elizabeth Dunlap of this city and Mrs. Vernon Lilly of Detroit, Mich.

Miss Dunlap had high score among the guests, and Miss Allison Delaplaine among the club members.

The Scientists Say!

The use of milk is indispensable. Every person should use more of it. But the germ of abortion in cattle is transmitted to people producing a dangerous disease—the undulant fever.

Pasteurization of milk completely destroys this germ. For this reason those who are familiar with the disease and its effect are urging people to use only pasteurized milk, and advocate passing of laws requiring Pasteurization of all milk sold.

WANT TO JOIN HI-Y?

Are you a Hi-Y member? If not, wouldn't you like to become one? Wouldn't any boy be glad of the chance to belong to a club whose purpose is "to create, maintain and extend throughout the school and community, high standards of Christian character?" Are you interested?

If you want to join this national organization, you have your chance now. You may obtain an application blank from any Hi-Y member. Fill out and return it to the one from whom you receive it. Your name will then be brought before the class and considered for membership. This chance is open to sophomores, juniors and seniors. You have your opportunity, so act now.

RULES FOR FIRE DRILL

Fire prevention week, Oct. 6-12, will be observed following a proclamation by Gov. Myers Y. Cooper.

Regulations which will concern the high school pupils in regard to fire drills this year are as follows: Any sounding of the fire gong shall be a signal for the building to be emptied at once. Three rings will be the usual signal. Only officials of the school or a fire marshal are permitted to ring the fire gong for a drill. Ringing of the gong by any other person shall be construed as giving a false alarm which is punishable by fine or imprisonment.

ORDER

Order is the first consideration in a fire drill. Pupils should WALK RAPIDLY but DO NOT RUN. Teachers should accompany pupils out of the building.

The following will be the order of march:

Those in rooms 10 and 12 will join to form a double file and march out in the south side or the left front door. Pupils in the library will follow pupils from rooms 10 and 12. Mr. Rife's room will form in double file and proceed out the front door followed by the pupils from Miss Brown's and Miss Yates' rooms who will join to form the double file. All those using the front exit will proceed to the side walk and then divide, half to the right and half to the left. Do not go beyond the alley to the north or Corwin-st, to the south. Auditorium will be emptied, one-half each way, through the rear doors.

Pupils in manual training and home economics will form double line in each case and march out the rear doors.

The science rooms, will form a double file and proceed down the south stairway followed by all pupils from the study hall. Room 18 will form a double file followed by rooms 17 and 20 joining to form the double file and march out the north rear door. Those using the rear exits will proceed far enough to allow all to get out of the building but never beyond the cinder track. Pupils from room 15 are to follow those from the study hall.

Pupils should remain standing quietly in line until the signal to return to the building is given. This signal will be one long ring of the regular class bell. At this signal, all will "about face" and march back to their classes.

A WELL-DRILLED SCHOOL MAY MEAN MANY LIVES SAVED.

CHAPEL

Helen K. Wittich, who had been granted a month's leave of absence, has recuperated, and was on hand to lead her first chapel of 1929-1930 school year Monday morning. She was warmly welcomed by the student body.

Principal Gephart read the scripture lesson which concerned Pharaoh's dream. The rest of the period was spent in song service.

SELECT JEWELRY

Principal Gephart sent letters of notification to all jewelers of the city Wednesday, to the effect that the junior and senior classes would select class rings and commencement invitations, Tuesday, Oct. 23, at 2 p. m.

The selection will be conducted as fairly and impartially as possible. Samples of the rings and invitations will be submitted, although the name of the dealers will not be disclosed, in order that no partiality may be shown.

HALLOWEEN PARTY

Decision to hold a Halloween party in the gym on Friday evening, Nov. 1, was made by the juniors at noon Monday.

President Rooney appointed the following committee which will act for the party: Refreshments, Martha Osborne, Clarence Barnhart, Lucille Kirkwood and Mildred Ritt; decorating, Eloise Eldridge, Edward Bost, Charles Brown, Cleo Brown, Mildred Greenlee, Jeannette Ruff and Addison Ziemer; program, Doris Peters, Margaret Carter, Dorothy Clark and Lucille Dumm.

The ring committee was advised to begin its selection of rings and pins and to prepare a report for a later meeting. Gertrude Pigman acted as class advisor.

SOPS. CELEBRATE

Thursday, the sophomores decided to have a masquerade party, Friday, Oct. 25, in the auditorium and gymnasium.

They also decided to discontinue monthly dues, that students should pay their back dues amounting to 25 cents and that any student, absent from a meeting without a written excuse approved by the president would be fined .05.

President Riegel then appointed committees for the coming Halloween party: Eats, Nina Denman, Zelma Betts, Jane Hitler and Marjorie Richey; Entertainment, Jean Fitzpatrick, Alice Briggs, Robert Greenlee, Albert Hoffman and Charles Plum; Decorating, Donald Wolf, Dorothy M. Glick, Waldo Hilyard and Elizabeth Martin, and Games, Dudley Mills, John Kestadt, Pat Kirwin and Donald White.

SENIORS HOLD MEETING

Advisability of having a pumpkin show booth was discussed at the class meeting Monday night. It was decided to have a booth of which the seniors will be in charge. A building committee was then appointed by President Russell, consisting of Edgar Clark, chairman, Emil Ross, Richard Nickerson and Edwin Haacker. A soliciting committee also was appointed, consisting of Margie Hunsicker, chairman, Peggy Courtright and Mary Mae Haswell.

Due to unkindness of the class Wilbur Adkins was appointed seargent-at-arms.

SENIOR BAKE SALE

Seniors decided to have a bake sale Saturday, October 12, at the city building. The committee in charge of this consists of Margie Hunsicker, chairman, Peggy Courtright and Mary Mae Haswell.

A committee consisting of Ellen Leist, Evelyn Steele and Richard Nickerson with Peggy Courtright as chairman was appointed to select invitations for the class.

Martha Mader and Margie Hunsicker, with Hugh Cartright as chairman were appointed as a buying committee.

BANQUET DATE SET

Decision to hold the Washington C. H.-Circleville Hi-Y banquet Friday evening, Oct. 25 was made at the Hi-Y meeting held Tuesday noon with Vice-president Rooney presiding.

It was decided to retain last year's advisory council, consisting of T. O. Gilliland, Rev. B. C. DeCamp and C. R. Barnhart. This council with E. V. Donaldson of Columbus, and a speaker for the evening are to be invited to the banquet.

Application membership blanks were issued to each member to be given to their fellow students.

President Cartright addressed the club in a talk in which he fully described Camp Nelson Dodd and thanked the club for giving him the opportunity to visit there last summer.

THESPIANS MEET

National Thespians held a meeting Monday evening. An announcement had been received from Paul Opp, national secretary of Thespians, that J. Wylie Fetherlin had been appointed regional director of Thespian work in the state of Ohio.

The club immediately planned to present a dramatic program in the near future.

A committee consisting of Mary Mae Haswell, Margie Hunsicker and Peggy Courtright was appointed by President Greeno to assist the director and to establish worthwhile dramatic contests with other schools.

Charles Kirkpatrick, Jeanne Crowe and Hugh Cartright were appointed as a membership committee.

EIGHTH A ELEGES

Glenn Russell, Betty Brown and Marjorie Brown were elected president, vice-president, and secretary, respectively, at the general meeting of the eighth grade A class.

Charlotte Moore and Mary Helwagen were chosen librarians for the ensuing year.

Emily Yates will act as advisor. The B class under the supervision of Miss Brown will organize next week.

GIRL RESERVES MEET

Thursday the Girl Reserves opened their first meeting by singing "Come All Ye Y Girls." Mrs. Stevenson, then talked to the club about the work and advantages of the "Business and Professional Women's Club."

A motion was made and carried that any member absent from the meetings more than once a month, except because of sickness, should be automatically dropped from the club. Members who attended the initial meeting are:

Florence Celler, Helen Celler, Margie Hunsicker, Doris Peters, Wilmina Phebus, Virginia Richey, Mildred Ritt, Evelyn Steele and advisors, Miss Watson and Mrs. Stevenson.

MATHEMATIC PROGRESS

In some sections of the Mathematics department, classes are not as large as in former years while in other sections there are more pupils than before.

The freshman algebra sections are smaller than in former years, possibly due to the fact that the freshman class is not as large as in some other years. However, the percentage of those electing algebra compares favorably with that of former classes. Thus far the class has studied the four fundamental operations of addition, subtraction, multiplication and division with respect to positive and negative number; the transforming of rules into formulas, the substitution of one value or quantity for another and finding the answer to the resulting expression, the interpretation of bar, circle and broken line graphs, and the construction of these graphs. As a whole the class seems to be progressing.

The plane geometry sections are about average size.

In studying the beginnings of mathematics, the class departed somewhat from the usual procedure. Believing that it is easier to remember facts discovered by oneself than to memorize facts which someone else has discovered the pupils work out for themselves the fundamental definitions, axioms and postulates. As far as it is possible they shall follow the same method thruout the year.

The advanced algebra class is made up of seniors and juniors who have elected mathematics as one of their majors. It is the largest class ever maintained in this branch of study—also larger than any other one section in this department this year.

Due to the fact that it has been two years for some and three for others since elementary algebra has been studied, it was necessary to spend the first three weeks in review.

These people for the most part are expecting to enter college or some special scientific study. Hence the course has been designed to meet all college entrance requirements, as has the course in plane geometry.

At the same time there are some who may not be fortunate enough to study farther than high school or who may not be able to go to school, so the course has been made practical, and able to meet the future needs of the average high school graduate.

COMMERCIAL DEPT. NEWS

"Speed tests for the typists are due in the near future so typists had better limber up some," states Mr. Keeler, instructor of the commercial department.

A new system has been introduced into the shorthand classes whereby if a person leaves out a word in the lesson he has to rewrite the complete lesson 30 times. This system makes the student more careful when writing the lesson.

Business English classes will soon take up English work in pads and ready references.

Ida Walters and Margaret Myers, graduates of last year, are taking a post-graduate course in shorthand. These new students bring the total enrollment of the commercial department to 237 pupils, an increase of 77 over last year.

MILLS DECLARED WINNER

When a re-check of the sophomore class election ballots was held Wednesday, it was disclosed that Dudley Mills had been elected seargent-at-arms instead of Miller Dunkle, as previously announced.

TO SING

Prof. Ellis Snyder, head of the department of voice in the Capital University Conservatory of Music, announced Wednesday that the personnel of the new chapel choir would include Priscilla Trimmer and Carl Leist formerly active in dramatic and musical circles here.

MCALLISTER RETURNS
Charles Maynard McAllister, vice president of the Athletic Association who has been absent for the past week due to an infected toe, returned yesterday.

WATTS SKINS SHIN
Fred Watts, while assisting the second team playing football Monday evening, was felled against the south goal-post and suffered a badly skinned shin.

BOOK REPORT DATES

Dates scheduled for the first, second, and third book reports to be written in Mr. Fetherlin's English classes are:

Junior section B and freshmen sections A and C—Oct. 16, December 19, and January 9; Junior section A and freshmen section B—November 1, November 25 and January 31.

Dates on which book reports will be made in Miss Kuhlman's class are as follows:

October 25, November 15, December 13, January 17, and February 21.

Miss Watson's sophomore English class will report on books on the following dates:

October 25, November 29, January 25, and February 22. Seniors will report on different essays and orations at the time of study. One report on oration has been made. They will also be required to write a production of each type studied.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION NOTES

Margaret Mattinson's sophomore girls have organized two recreation ball teams. Jane Hitler and Dorothy L. Glick are captains of the teams.

Velma Watson's senior-junior girls recreation ball tournament is quite interesting for the juniors, this week. They have a lead of several points.

Miss Kuhlman's freshman girls have also organized into two recreation ball teams. Catherine Brown and Eleanor Davis are the captains.

OHIO HISTORY DAY

Ohio History day will be observed Oct. 6 at Logan Elm Park. A splendid program has been prepared for the annual homage to the Red Man by the president of the Ohio History Association—Mrs. Howard Jones.

It is hoped that the history students of C. H. S. will attend this celebration.

MIAMI STUDENT—Oxford, O.

A hoard of 1025 freshmen invaded Freshmen week, Monday, Sept. 16, the campus at beginning of this enrollment being the largest in the history of Miami, exceeds last year's figure by 221. Registration reached a total of 1,955 last Friday.

A school of fine arts at Miami, long a dream of President Upham, has materialized and is now in operation, with a complete faculty offering courses in three departments, Music, art and design, and architecture.

Forty-two professors have been added to the Miami University faculty for this year. New men and women are to appear in almost every department and school.

One hundred and fifty freshmen answered the initial call for football at the beginning of Freshman week. This number far exceeds any previous turn-out.

Coach Ditmer has already reduced this squad to about 60 men. However, it is more than likely that some of those now on the squad will be replaced by others that are not at present in uniform.

MADER CHAMPION

John Mader, caddy golf champion of Pickaway-co is a member of the freshman class.

SPRAINS WRIST

William Robinson, eighth grade, was painfully injured Tuesday evening when he jammed his right wrist while practicing football.

ON GLEE CLUB

Elliott Barnhill, '29, vocalist of ability in recent operettas, has won a place in the Ohio Wesleyan university Glee Club. He and Emmett Barnhart have been pledged to Phi Gamma Delta, fraternity of which Calvin Coolidge is an illustrious member.

Harry Foster and Fred Pense were elected mayor and chief of police respectively for this week in lower special education class. If the pupils talk less than three times he is eligible for this office. This class under the instruction of Iris Fierce is weaving raphia for pocket books.

NEW DRAWING TEXT

The enrollment of the manual training department is about the same as previous years as there has been no noticeable increase.

A new text has been introduced into the department dealing with mechanical drawing in high school. The text is written by Prof. French of Ohio State University and is more general than the other.

ORCHESTRA PROSPECTS
"Although the orchestra has lost four of its members I feel confident that this year's orchestra will make as good a showing as that of last year if not a better one. In fact the prospects for this year's orchestra are very good," said C. F. Zaenglein in orchestra practice Tuesday evening.

Mrs. I. F. Snyder and Miss Mary Snyder were visitors in Chillicothe Friday.

Social Events

Miss Allison Delaplaine, Editor, Phone 581.

SOCIAL MEETING OF EASTERN STAR

Circleville Chapter. Order of the Eastern Star will meet Tuesday evening in the Masonic Temple. Mrs. Lorin E. Lutz has arranged a program for this meeting composed of vocal and violin music, readings and dances. Mrs. Robert Gearhart is chairman of the refreshment committee.

To this meeting all members of the local chapter, and those living in this city, who are members of other chapters, are cordially invited. The meeting starts promptly at seven o'clock.

MARGARET SITTLER ALMA MATER QUEEN

Miss Margaret Sittler, senior student at Whittenburg College, Springfield, has been chosen Alma Mater Queen this year. She is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Joseph Sittler of Columbus, and the niece of Mrs. I. N. Abernethy of N. Court-st, Circleville.

Miss Sittler, with fifteen hundred other students from Whittenburg, attended the Whittenburg-Ohio State football game Saturday afternoon.

TO SING SUNDAY AT ST. PHILLIPS

Mrs. Cecil Ward of Scioto-twp, will sing the offertory solo in St. Phillips Episcopal church, Sunday morning at 10:15 o'clock.

Mrs. Ward possesses a fine soprano voice of rare beauty and won second prize in the recent Atwater-Kent Audition on September 27. She is a pupil of Mrs. Rolland P. Heiskell.

SON AND WIFE HERE FROM WEST

Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Sensenbrenner recently of Long Beach, California, are the guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Sensenbrenner of E. Mound-st. Sunday their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Emmons of Columbus will be entertained to dinner at their home.

The younger Mr. Sensenbrenner and his wife from the West expect to make an extended visit here.

ENTERTAINS CARD CLUB

Several guests were present Friday night when Miss Miriam Ruggles entertained her bridge club at her home on S. Court-st. Those outside the regular club were Mrs. Clark Will, Mrs. Robert Criswell, Mrs. Donald Morris, Mrs. Ned Groom, and Miss Elizabeth Dunlap of this city and Mrs. Vernon Lilly of Detroit, Mich.

Miss Dunlap had high score among the guests, and Miss Allison Delaplaine among the club members.
